“Living Originalism is one of the most remarkable books in recent constitutional scholarship. It offers a fresh and provocative perspective on the nature of constitutional legitimacy and the role of historical context in shaping constitutional interpretation. Balkin’s argument is compelling and his scholarship is meticulous.”

—SANDRA GLICKMAN, SANTA CLARA UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

“Balkin’s book is a tour de force. It combines a deep understanding of constitutional theory with a rich analysis of the history of constitutional thought. The result is a work that is both original and insightful.”

—STEVEN L. TRIMBATH, SOUTHERN METHODIST UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

NEW

LIVING
ORIGINALISM

JACK M. BALKIN

“The best book on constitutional theory… It offers brilliant argument and insights and is often truly moving in its conception of what it means to take the Constitution seriously. It will be a worthy successor to Bickel’s The Least Dangerous Branch and Ely’s Democracy and Distrust in framing discussion of the Constitution for years to come.”

—SANFORD LEVINSON, UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS SCHOOL OF LAW

“Living Originalism is the best and most important work in constitutional theory since Dworkin’s Law’s Empire… It is without doubt a work of remarkable sophistication, maturity, and grace. Jack Balkin is already in the upper echelon of today’s constitutional scholars, but this book puts him at the top of the top.”

—RANDY BARNETT, GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY LAW CENTER

NEW

CONSTITUTIONAL REDEMPTION

JACK M. BALKIN

“Balkin’s book is both acute and inspiring—Balkin at his best. Wonderfully articulate, provocative, and illuminating, Balkin offers a remarkably original and unified argument that the long history of struggle over the Constitution’s commitments can best be understood as a nation’s story of faith, doubt, and redemption.”

—JAMES E. FLEMING, BOSTON UNIVERSITY

“A wonderful meditation on the American constitutional story. Balkin’s living originalism challenges both those who would unmoor constitutionalism completely from the past, and those who would have us ruled by long-dead white men in hideous wigs.”

—MARK GRABER, UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

“In Brian McGinty’s engaging treatment of this famous episode, Lincoln comes across as a familiar figure—both thoughtful and decisive, respectful of constitutional law yet aware of the unusual necessities of the time…McGinty’s account offers a…vivid and rounded picture of the episode by giving Chief Justice Taney’s motivations and hypocrisies equal billing; doing so puts Lincoln’s actions in an even more favorable light than history already has. Beset by enemies on all sides, Lincoln had also to cope with calculated opposition clothed in judicial robes, and he did so with admirable restraint.”

—ADRIAN VERMEULE, NEW REPUBLIC ONLINE

“An original, comprehensive, and well-written narrative about the first constitutional crisis…Anyone interested in American history, the Constitution, and the Civil War will be anxious to read this excellent book.”

—FRANK J. WILLIAMS, FORMER CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE RHODE ISLAND SUPREME COURT AND FOUNDING CHAIR OF THE LINCOLN FORUM

Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-06155-2

NEW IN PAPERBACK

Habeas Corpus
From England to Empire
PAUL D. HALLDAY
★ Inner Temple Book Prize, Honourable Society of the Inner Temple
★ A New Statesman Favorite Read of the Year

“[A] superb history of habeas corpus…Part legal drama, part subtle causal analysis, this book proves that a gripping history of a legal writ is no contradiction in terms.”

—ADRIAN VERMEULE, NEW REPUBLIC ONLINE

“[A] monumental work…For anyone deeply interested in these issues it provides an invigorating blast against received ideas and intellectual complacency. Above all, it challenges us to think again about the foundation stones of personal liberty.”

—THE ECONOMIST

“[A] splendid and important book…It casts much brilliant new light on the subject.”

—LINDA COLLEY, TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

Cloth $39.95 / £29.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04901-7

NEW IN PAPERBACK

The Ideological Origins of American Federalism
ALISON L. LACROIX

“As LaCroix shows in this engaging treatise, the who-does-what questions at the heart of federalism have vexed the nation from the get-go.”

—KEVIN R. KO SAR, WEEKLY STANDARD

“The virtue of LaCroix’s account is to show not only that federalism as it developed was more intellectually coherent than a mere bundle of compromises, but also that its theoretical core had begun to emerge decades before the delegates travelled to Philadelphia in May 1787 [for the Constitutional Convention].”

—GARY L. MCDOWELL, TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

Paper $22.50 / £16.95 ISBN 978-0-674-06203-0
over-regulated state gives too much discretion to regulators, which results in arbitrary, unfair decisions, and other abuses. Epstein bases his classical liberalism on the twin pillars of the rule of law and of private contracts and property rights.

NEW IN PAPERBACK

LUCAS A. POWE, JR.

“Powe has certainly written a book that is entertaining, quirky, idiosyncratic, fun to read, and more than occasionally insightful. It does blend together legal doctrine and American politics, and as a result the history is richer—and more complete—than the usual account.”
—LAWRENCE M. FRIEDMAN, AMERICAN PROSPECT

“A leading historian of the Supreme Court, Powe decries what he calls the Imperial Court, which he sees as overly concerned with solidifying its primacy through a series of pretentious opinions. He details a litany of cases in which the Rehnquist Court overturned progressive, proactive legislation designed to protect and improve society, instead turning to rigid interpretation in an overreaching attempt to stifle congressional authority, as granted by the Constitution.”
—PHILIP Y. BLUE, LIBRARY JOURNAL

NEW

REASONING FROM RACE

Feminism, Law, and the Civil Rights Revolution

SERENA MAYERI

In the 1960s and 1970s, analogies between sex discrimination and racial injustice became potent weapons in the battle for women’s rights, as feminists borrowed rhetoric and legal arguments from the civil rights movement. Serena Mayeri’s Reasoning from Race is the first history of this key strategy and its consequences for American law.

“Mayeri shows that racial politics’ impact on the women’s movement was not a coincidence of timing but rather the inevitable result of ideas and individuals colliding at key moments in history. Her carefully crafted reconciliation of racial justice with women’s rights offers a template for incorporating race into ongoing feminist debate rather than letting such conversations end in painful silence.”
—PAMELA D. BRIDGEWATER, M.S.

NEW
THE FOUNDING FATHERS v. THE PEOPLE
Paradoxes of American Democracy
ANTHONY KING
“A fresh, interesting, wide-ranging interpretation of U.S. politics and political history.”
—DAVID R. MAYHEW, YALE UNIVERSITY
“Following in the distinguished tradition of foreigners who have helped Americans think about how they govern themselves, Tony King has produced a beautifully crafted and deliciously thought-provoking extended essay on the many puzzles of American politics emanating from the tensions between constitutionalism and democracy. In his signature empirical and nonjudgmental fashion, King identifies paradoxes and raises questions that are certain to provoke discussion and debate on this side of the Atlantic.”
—THOMAS E. MANN, THE BROOKINGS INSTITUTION
2012 256 pp.
Cloth $35.00 / £25.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04573-6

NEW
JUSTIFYING INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY
ROBERT P. MERGES
“In this book, which promises to be a landmark in the field, Merges presents a wide-ranging and highly insightful synthesis of three strands of property-related philosophy in order to provide a grounding for mid-level principles of intellectual property.”
—HENRY E. SMITH, HARVARD LAW SCHOOL
“A new Bible for Intellectual Property…Merges provides an ethical foundation both for the establishment of property rights for creative contributions to society as well as for substantive limits to those rights. Justifying Intellectual Property is a fascinating book…[It] offers a new framework for understanding intellectual property with a particular focus on why it makes sense to offer property rights for creative enterprises.”
—DENNIS CROUCH, PATENTLYO.COM
2011 7 line illus., 2 graphs, 8 tables 422 pp.
Cloth $59.95 / £44.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04948-2

NEW
THE LAW OF LIFE AND DEATH
ELIZABETH PRICE FOLEY
“Foley’s book is essentially a primer or textbook on these legal issues of life and death, suitable for ethicists interested in learning about the law and for lawyers interested in learning about ethics…Foley ably lays out the moral arguments and legal disputes, and persuasively criticizes poorly reasoned judicial opinions.”
—ERIC POSNER, NEW REPUBLIC ONLINE
“Foley presents a profoundly intelligent, distinctive, and disturbing book. In seven short chapters, she dissects the legality behind what makes a person alive or dead…This work will be appreciated by legislators, serious readers, and legal and medical professionals.”
—HARRY CHARLES, LIBRARY JOURNAL
Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05104-1

NEW IN PAPERBACK
THE OFFENSIVE INTERNET
Speech, Privacy, and Reputation
EDITED BY SAUL LEVMORE AND MARTHA C. NUSBAUM
“[This book] is for those who care how the internet has complicated privacy, speech, and reputation, and for those who may have to rescue it from itself.”
—LIZ ELSE, NEW SCIENTIST
“[The Offensive Internet] takes up the serious questions we must face as the net becomes not some specialized tool for technology enthusiasts but ubiquitous…Informative, illuminating.”
—RACHEL BRIDGEWATER, LIBRARY JOURNAL (starred review)
“How Judges Think is important, if only because it’s Posner looking at his own profession from the inside … The book can be read as one long screed against the jurisprudence of Supreme Court Justice Antonin Scalia, and stands as a refutation to those who believe the category of conservative can lazily be applied to a mind as independent as Posner’s.”

—BARRY GEWEN, NEW YORK TIMES ONLINE

Constitutional Identity

GARY JEFFREY JACOBSON

“The beauty of Constitutional Identity derives both from the lucidity of Jacobsohn’s arguments and the cogency of his examples… If the problems producing constitutional disharmonies are diverse, the legal and philosophical struggle to discover the core identities of the systems being studied and reconcile ‘the actual and the ideal provided for in a constitutional document’ is remarkably universal.”

—E. V. SCHNEIER, CHOICE

Constitutional Theocracy

RAN HIRSCHL

“Hirschl brings a wealth of understanding of comparative judicial politics in numerous contexts… [Constitutional Theocracy] proceeds to explore the implications of the constitutional embrace and limitation of religion, arguing that constitutionalism and theocratic government work hand-in-hand in both secular and theocratic contexts… Hirschl’s work is unique and extremely important. It is a must-read for all scholars of religion and legal politics.”

—P. ROWE, CHOICE

The Spirit of the Law

Religious Voices and the Constitution in Modern America

SARAH BARRINGER GORDON

★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year

“Sally Gordon turns the accepted wisdom neatly on its head by demonstrating that it is the extraordinary power of the religious impulse that has shaped—and continues to shape—American law, not the other way around… [An] excellent book.”

—BURT NEUBORNE, FORWARD

Religious Freedom and the Constitution

CHRISTOPHER L. EISGRUBER AND LAWRENCE G. SAGER

“The authors proceed patiently and sensibly through considerations of creche displays, conscientious objectors, ritual animal slaughter, and peyote smoking. Their recommendations may prove more useful as a philosophical corrective than as a set of juridical guidelines, but their careful attention to the social meaning of symbols, and their nuanced concern with the sociological role and ideological sway of religion in American culture, insures the persuasive force and continuing relevance of their arguments.”

—NEW YORKER

"Garrett’s book is a gripping contribution to the literature of injustice, along with a galvanizing call for reform…It’s the stories in his book that stick in the memory. One can only hope that they will mobilize a broad range of citizens, liberal and conservative, to demand legislative and judicial reforms ensuring that the innocent go free whether or not the constable has blundered.”
—JEFFREY ROSEN, NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW

NEW in Paperback
The Condemnation of Blackness
Race, Crime, and the Making of Modern Urban America
KHAIL GIBRAN MUHAMMAD
★ John Hope Franklin Publication Prize, American Studies Association
“A dazzling study that illuminates a great deal about the social construction of black criminality. Muhammad does a superb job of explicated the role that social scientists, journalists, and reformers played in creating the idea of the black criminal and sustaining racial inequality.”
—ALDON D. MORRIS, AUTHOR OF THE ORIGINS OF THE CIVIL RIGHTS MOVEMENT

peculiar Institution
America’s Death Penalty in an Age of Abolition
DAVID GARLAND
★ Association of American Publishers PROSE Award for Excellence, Law and Legal Studies
★ Barrington Moore Book Award
★ Co-Winner, Mary Douglas Prize
★ A Times Literary Supplement Best Book of the Year
“[A] magisterial account of the origins, the development, and the transformation of capital punishment.”
—MARIE GOTTSCALK, NEW REPUBLIC ONLINE
Belknap 2010 3 figures, 3 tables 432 pp. Cloth $35.00 / COBE ISBN 978-0-674-05723-4

NEW Convicting
the Innocent
Where Criminal Prosecutions Go Wrong
BRANDON L. GARRETT
★ Co-Winner, Constitutional Commentary Award, Constitution Project
“Exceptionally rich, insightful, provocative, and well-written. It is bound to have great influence on academic thinking, and perhaps in time on the criminal justice system.”
—RICHARD A. POSNER, NEW REPUBLIC
“The book is eminently readable and merits careful attention because it accurately describes the twin problems that pervade American criminal justice today—its overall severity and its disparate treatment of African-Americans.”
—JUSTICE JOHN PAUL STEVENS, NEW YORK REVIEW OF BOOKS

NEW
The Collapse of American Criminal Justice
WILLIAM J. STUNTZ
★ A Green Bag Almanac & Reader Selection for Exemplary Legal Writing
★ A Library Journal Best Book of the Year
“Exceptionally rich, insightful, provocative, and well-written. It is bound to have great influence on academic thinking, and perhaps in time on the criminal justice system.”
—RICHARD A. POSNER, NEW REPUBLIC
“The book is eminently readable and merits careful attention because it accurately describes the twin problems that pervade American criminal justice today—its overall severity and its disparate treatment of African-Americans.”
—JUSTICE JOHN PAUL STEVENS, NEW YORK REVIEW OF BOOKS

NEW in Paperback
American Homicide
RANDOLPH ROTH
★ Michael J. Hindelang Award
★ Allan Sharlin Memorial Award
★ A Reason Best Book of the Year
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year
“Randolph Roth traces the history of our murdering ways through the lens of our feelings about those in power…Roth argues that how we see ourselves in relation to our government…is at the heart of many decisions to take another life…American Homicide is a vivid reminder that politics isn’t just about winning—it’s also about how you treat those who lose.”
—RAIN A KELLEY, NEWSWEEK
NEW

AMERICAN PROPERTY
A History of How, Why, and What We Own
STUART BANNER
“Banner provides an expansive survey on the evolution of property rights and protections in the U.S. Using the background of technological advances and shifting social perspectives, the author highlights the mutable nature of American property.”
—A. H. COOLEY, CHOICE

“In this tightly written book, Banner tackles an admittedly expansive topic, illustrating that our ideas about what property is, how it is regulated, and what it is meant to do are in constant flux and have been historically contested. Partly an examination of law, partly of culture, politics, economics, and even religion, Banner successfully shows how our notions of property and so-called ‘natural property’ in essence sketch the shifting borders of what Americans deem appropriate government regulation.”
—PUBLISHERS WEEKLY
Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05805-7

NEW IN PAPERBACK

FRAMING CONTRACT LAW
An Economic Perspective
VICTOR GOLDBERG
“This stimulating book should be placed on the top of the reading stack for everyone who studies contract law—along with those who structure or litigate deals for a living. Goldberg is an adept legal archeologist who has done a wonderful job of unearthing old court documents, obscure business relationships, and forgotten family histories. He is a master storyteller—many of the chapters flow more like a Booker Prize novel than dry legal commentary.”
—GEORGE S. GEIS, UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO LAW REVIEW
Paper $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-06392-1

NEW

SOMEDAY ALL THIS WILL BE YOURS
A History of Inheritance and Old Age
HENDRIK HARTOG
Hartog tells the heart-breaking stories of how families fought over the work of caring for the elderly, and its compensation, in a time before pensions, Social Security, and nursing homes filled this gap. As an explosive economy drew the young away from home, we see how the elderly used promises of inheritance to keep children at their side.
“Hartog brilliantly illuminates the central role that law has played in shaping Americans’ ideas about getting old. Poignant, funny, and analytically razor-sharp, this is a ground-breaking book.”
—DYLAN PENNINGROTH, AUTHOR OF THE CLAIMS OF KINFOLK

“With empathy and captivating style, Hartog, a superb historian, offers a memorable analysis of changing family struggles over inheritance and care.”
—VIVIANA A. ZELIZER, AUTHOR OF ECONOMIC LIVES
2012 368 pp.
Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04688-7

Also available

WHO OWNS THE SKY?
The Struggle to Control Airspace from the Wright Brothers On
STUART BANNER
Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-03082-4

WHO OWNS NATIVE CULTURE?
MICHAEL F. BROWN
Paper $23.00 / £17.95 ISBN 978-0-674-01633-0

www.hup.harvard.edu / 1-800-405-1619 (in U.S. only)
NEW

democracy without politics

steven bilakovic

“addressing the peculiar seesaw of cynicism and idealism that characterizes american politics, steven bilakovic provocatively suggests that our current anti-political prejudices flow not from some extra-political source (such as neoliberal economics or fundamentalist religion) but from the spirit of democracy itself.”

—dana villa, university of notre dame

“many people today are cynical about democratic politics. could democracy itself be partly to blame? that is the provocative suggestion of steven bilakovic’s fascinating new book on democracy in america… [bilakovic] argues that we often misunderstand the virtues of our own political culture, thinking of democracy simply as a form of openness and thereby leading ourselves to disappointment and disillusionment. the book as a whole makes a powerful case against democratic complacency.”

—bryan garsten, yale university

2012 314 pp. cloth $35.00 / £25.95  isbn 978-0-674-05822-4

new

the crucible of consent american child rearing and the forging of liberal society

james e. block

“no one understands the struggle with authority at the heart of american liberalism better than james block, and no one conveys more vividly its vitality and inner tension. following up his arresting depiction of america as a nation of agents, block now considers the cultivation of liberal citizens, of men and women who would internalize cultural expectations and obligations without losing their innate spontaneity, creativity, and love of freedom… the crucible of consent reminds us of the best in our national character and of the complications that have come to impede its latter-day expression.”

—stephen skowronek, yale university

“an agenda-setting work that we will be reckoning with for a long time.”

—michael zuckerman, university of pennsylvania

2012 464 pp. cloth $45.00 / £33.95  isbn 978-0-674-05194-2

new

secularism and freedom of conscience jocelyn maclure and charles taylor

translated by jane marie todd

★ charles taylor is winner of the templeton prize

★ charles taylor is winner of the kyoto prize in arts and philosophy, inamori foundation

jocelyn maclure and charles taylor provide a clearly reasoned, articulate account of the two main principles of secularism — equal respect and freedom of conscience — and argue that in our religiously diverse, politically interconnected world, secularism, properly understood, may offer the only path to religious and philosophical freedom.

“This little book is a philosophical novella whose greatest virtue is that it may actually be read by both religious thinkers and academic philosophers — two audiences of slight interaction — and perhaps even ignite a sustained dialogue between them.”

—philip s. gorski, yale university

2011 160 pp. cloth $24.95 / £18.95 isbn 978-0-674-05865-1

new

human dignity

george kateb

“[a] powerful and ambitious book. [Kateb] provides a sterling example of one of the most challenging of genres, the philosophic essay. He writes not just for other scholars but for anyone who loves to think. I won’t mislead you by pretending that human dignity is easy and pleasant. It is demanding and pleasant, the pleasures being those of an argument that illuminates an important subject… no brief review could do justice to its bold amplitude, its intriguing twists, its problems and provocations.”

—clifford orwin, globe and mail

Belknap 2011 256 pp. cloth $22.95 / £16.95  isbn 978-0-674-04837-9 political and legal philosophy

New

Creating Capabilities

The Human Development Approach

MARTHA C. NUSBAUM

“Nussbaum looks at what it really means for a country to experience prosperity...by focusing on how economic prosperity plays out in ordinary citizens' lives...By demonstrating the philosophical underpinnings of this approach and how the theory plays out in the real world, Nussbaum makes a compelling case. Not only is this a more realistic measure of wealth, but it is also a far more compassionate one. For readers who enjoy economics laced with humanity.”
—CAROL J. ELSEN, LIBRARY JOURNAL

“Offering a forceful and persuasive account of the failings of Gross Domestic Product (GDP) as an accurate reflection of human welfare, the distinguished philosopher Nussbaum provides a framework for a new account of global development based on the concept of capabilities...The author argues that human development is best measured in terms of specific opportunities available to individuals rather than economic growth figures...This small book provides a strong foundation for beginning to think about how economic growth and individual flourishing might coincide.”
—PUBLISHERS WEEKLY

Cloth $22.95 / £16.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05054-9

New

The Arc of the Moral Universe and Other Essays

JOSHUA COHEN

“In this marvelous collection, Josh Cohen displays his characteristic mixture of sharp philosophical analysis and serious political engagement. Beginning (and ending) with reflections on the role of moral truth in explaining moral advances, he addresses some of the largest questions about democracy within nations and global justice beyond them. And, on the way, he engages with recent thinkers as important and diverse as Chomsky, Habermas, Okin, and Rawls. An exhilarating read.”
—K. ANTHONY APPIAH, PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

New

Justice for Hedgehogs

RONALD DWORKIN

“We are in at the birth, here, of a modern philosophical classic, one of the essential works of contemporary thought.”
—A. C. GRAYLING, NEW YORK REVIEW OF BOOKS

“A daring and demanding treatise...Defining morality as the standards governing how we ought to treat other people, and ethics as the standards governing how we ought to live ourselves, Dworkin argues that living morally and living ethically are inseparable...Justice for Hedgehogs attempts to give human beings their due, not in any spirit of self-congratulation but so that we may build a better life for all.”
—RICHARD SUSSKIND, THE TIMES

Belknap 2011 528 pp.
Cloth $35.00 / £24.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04671-9

New in paperback

The Idea of Justice

AMARTYA SEN

★ A Globe and Mail Best Book of the Year
★ An Economist Best Book of the Year
★ A New Statesman Top Ten Book of the Decade

“In this intricate, endlessly thought-provoking book, Sen brings the full force of his formidable mind and his moral sense to show how specific questions—of chronic malnourishment, ill-health, demographic gender imbalance—must be analyzed in terms of justice. Doing something about them is not a discretionary matter—it is a requirement of being human. Sen is the most sophisticated intellectual campaigner of our times—his arguments have shaped not just academic disciplines but the policies of governments and of global institutions like the World Bank.”
—SU NIL KHILNANI, FINANCIAL TIMES ONLINE

Belknap 2011; 2009 496 pp.
Paper $22.95 / NA ISBN 978-0-674-06047-0

www.hup.harvard.edu / 1-800-405-1619 (in U.S. only)
NEW
NO ENEMIES, NO HATRED
Selected Essays and Poems
LIU XIAOBO
Edited by Perry Link, Tienchi Martin-Liao, and Liu Xia
Foreword by Vaclav Havel
★ A Wall Street Journal Best Nonfiction Book of the Year
“It is scarcely credible that the government of a country of 1.4 billion people, one of the largest economies, an emergent great power that is flexing its muscle in all directions, can be so scared of one individual, a writer whose crime is to write about what is happening in China and to disseminate his ideas online. What has [Liu] done that is so bad? Only by reading his work can we find out.”
—NICHOLAS JOSE, THE AUSTRALIAN
“Liu’s ringing universalist defense of democratic rights and freedoms will resonate with American readers.”
—PUBLISHERS WEEKLY
Belknap 2012 400 pp.
Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-06147-7
NEW IN PAPERBACK
THE HEBREW REPUBLIC
Jewish Sources and the Transformation of European Political Thought
ERIC NELSON
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year
“[A] magnificent book…Not only has [Nelson] significantly revised the history of some key concepts in early modern European political thought. It may be that he has written a paradigm-shifter, the kind of book that fundamentally realigns the way scholars look at a period as a whole.”
—NATHAN PERL-ROSENTHAL, NEW REPUBLIC ONLINE
Cloth $27.95 / £20.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05058-7
NEW LEGALITY
SCOTT J. SHAPIRO
“[Legality] is a sympathetic, accessible, and highly readable exposition of the theories that have preceded it. It is now one of the best single-authored introductions to the subject. It is also a significant contribution. Moreover, it is an apologia for the subject itself; and for the method of conceptual analysis as a way of uncovering the nature and grounds of law…Both as a defense and example of analytic jurisprudence…this book is unrivalled.”
—WILLIAM A. EDMUNDS, JURISPRUDENCE
“Scott Shapiro’s Legality is a rich and ambitious discussion of law’s fundamental nature. Almost every page is provocative, touching upon many of the most interesting, complicated and controversial areas within this area of inquiry.”
—STEFAN SCIARRAFFA, OXFORD JOURNAL OF LEGAL STUDIES
Cloth $39.95 / £29.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05566-7
NEW IN PAPERBACK
COMMONWEALTH
MICHAEL HARDT AND ANTONIO NEGRI
“Commonwealth [is] the latest book by Michael Hardt and Antonio Negri, whose Empire and Multitude have, arguably, been the dominant works of political philosophy of the new century…[It’s] the much-anticipated final volume of the Empire trilogy.”
—ARTFORUM
Also by Michael Hardt and Antonio Negri EMPIRE
NEW IN PAPERBACK

WHEN IS DISCRIMINATION WRONG?
DEBORAH HELLMAN
“[Hellman] has provided a coherent, thoughtful approach that advances understanding of this intractable problem.”
—P. J. GALIE, CHOICE

“Deborah Hellman has taken on the important and difficult task of trying to establish logically consistent rules for determining just where in that fuzzy territory the line between legitimate and illegitimate discrimination should be drawn. Hellman’s writing is clear and engaging.”
—WENDY JOHNSON, TIMES HIGHER EDUCATION SUPPLEMENT

JEALOUSY OF TRADE
International Competition and the Nation-State in Historical Perspective
ISTVAN HONT
★ J. David Greenstone Book Prize, American Political Science Association
★ Joseph J. Spengler Best Book Award, History of Economics Society
“It is a landmark contribution to its field.”
—RICHARD BOURKE, TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

“Hon’ts painstaking work on Enlightenment political and economic discourse is historically invaluable, because it reveals the epoch-making impact of emergent global commercial empires, and forces us to recognize that the histories of individual European nation-states are really the products of a transnational (and ultimately global) process at once political and economic.”
—DAVID W. BATES, INTERNATIONAL HISTORY REVIEW

NEW IN PAPERBACK

WHAT IS A PALESTINIAN STATE WORTH?
SARI NUSSEIBEH
“Nusseibeh repeatedly expresses his belief that change is possible if people have the self-confidence and faith in themselves to act. He sees his task as an educator to be one of inculcating such faith. And he also describes, in several chapters of his often moving book, a moral basis for political action that can speak to all of us.”
—DAVID SHULMAN, NEW YORK REVIEW OF BOOKS

“[Nusseibeh] comes closer to advocating a Gandhian strategy than any other Palestinian leader I know of.”
—ADAM KIRSCH, TABLET MAGAZINE

THE DISENCHANTMENT OF SECULAR DISCOURSE
STEVEN D. SMITH
★ A First Things Notable Book of the Year
“This book presses us to look harder at closely held beliefs and to question deeply rooted premises and commitments with which we are perhaps too comfortable.”
—RICHARD W. GARNETT, NOTRE DAME LAW SCHOOL

NEW IN PAPERBACK

THINKING LIKE A LAWYER
A New Introduction to Legal Reasoning

FREDERICK SCHAUER

“A welcome complement to [Edward] Levi’s approach, as well as being easier for the legal novice to understand. Yet Schauer’s book also offers the lawyer and scholar useful perspective on what he or she does.”

—BRIAN LEITER, TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

“Thinking Like a Lawyer is excellent reading material for anyone wishing a deeper and more nuanced—even a more magnanimous—understanding of the motivations behind law’s often convoluted pronouncements.”

—JOHN AZZOLINI, LAW LIBRARY JOURNAL

Cloth $42.50 / £31.95  ISBN 978-0-674-03270-5

FORCE AND FREEDOM

Kant’s Legal and Political Philosophy

ARTHUR RIPSTEIN

★ Shortlisted, C.B. MacPherson Prize, Canadian Political Science Association
★ Co-Winner, Canadian Philosophical Association Book Prize

“This is one of the best books on Kant’s legal philosophy to appear to date. It is both an outstanding commentary on Kant and an important work of legal-political philosophy with much contemporary relevance. What is perhaps most impressive about this book is how much unity it uncovers in Kant’s legal and political thought.”

—MARTIN J. STONE, BENJAMIN N. CARDozo SCHOOL OF LAW

Cloth $52.50 / £38.95  ISBN 978-0-674-05506-5

NEW IN PAPERBACK

IN THE SHADOW OF DU BOIS

Afro-Modern Political Thought in America

ROBERT GOODING-WILLIAMS

★ Best Book on Race, Ethnicity, and Political Thought, American Political Science Association
★ Honorable Mention, David Easton Award, American Political Science Association, Foundations of Political Theory Section
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year

“[A] sustained and in-depth engagement with the legacy of Du Bois’s thought, especially as it pertains to questions of black political activism and leadership.”

—PENIEL E. JOSEPH, BOOKFORUM

“In the Shadow of Du Bois is a thoughtful, nuanced work that challenges previous perceptions of Du Bois and modern definitions of African American politics.”

—K. ANDERSON, CHOICE

2011; 2009 368 pp.

MINERVA’S OWL

The Tradition of Western Political Thought

JEFFREY ABRAMSON

“Abramson bestows upon readers the benefit of his decades of teaching political philosophy… This book consists of straightforward and lucid explorations of the canonical thinkers and their works.”

—STEVEN CHABOT, LIBRARY JOURNAL

“[Abramson] gives us a wonderfully accessible survey of the entire field of Western political philosophy. His book is not only a fine introduction for beginners, but also an erudite, non-partisan consideration for those who may be more conversant with the literature. There is something to think about on every page.”

—ROGER GATHMAN, AUSTIN AMERICAN-STATESMAN

2010; 2009 400 pp.
New

Common Sense
A Political History

Sophia Rosenfeld

“We often hear politicians and pundits speak of ‘common sense.’ Now Rosenfeld insightfully traces the turns the phrase has taken since it came into use in 18th-century urban centers…Her book is a model of how a fine work of history may enlighten readers about polemics without being a polemic itself. Rich, graceful, often witty, this is very highly recommended.”

—Bob Nardimi, Library Journal

“Rosenfeld is a shrewd and inventive historian. She has excavated the rhetoric of common sense from an impressive number of sites and has shaped this diverse evidence into a smart and plausible narrative. She writes with verve…Rosenfeld warns us that common sense is sometimes just an honorific that we bestow upon our prejudices.”

—Jeffrey Collins, Wall Street Journal

2011 14 halftones 368 pp.
Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05781-4

NEW IN PAPERBACK

Neoconservatism

The Biography of a Movement

Justin Vaïsse

Translated by Arthur Goldhammer

★ A Financial Times Politics Book of the Year

“Essential reading for anyone wishing to understand the contours of our recent political past.”

—BARRY GEWEN, NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW

“[Vaïsse] has written a book on neoconservatism that is thoughtful and well-informed…In a crowded field, Vaïsse has written a fine primer, judicious, thorough, and sure-footed.”

—Rich Lowry, Washington Post

New

Age of Fracture

Daniel T. Rodgers

★ John G. Cavelti Award, Popular Culture Association and American Culture Association

“In The Age of Fracture, Daniel Rodgers offers an elegant, often eloquent, history of intellectual life in the last quarter of the twentieth century.”

—Lisa Szefel, History News Network

“Rodgers has a knack for characterizing and assessing ideas without reducing them to their strictly polemical dimensions. But he also conveys the urgency and consequence of intellectual debate: the sense that it has stakes…Age of Fracture provides a frequently insightful narrative of recent public intellectual life in this country—and also some understanding of its precarious situation now.”

—Scott Mcleemee, The National

“It is hard to think of a work of American intellectual history, written in the last quarter of a century, that is more accomplished or more likely to remain permanently influential.”

—Michael O’Brien, Times Literary Supplement

Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05744-9

NEW IN PAPERBACK

America’s Cold War

The Politics of Insecurity

Campbell Craig and Fredrik Logevall

“This is a creative, carefully researched, and incisive analysis of U.S. strategy during the long struggle against the Soviet Union. There are plenty of good books on this topic already, but Craig and Logevall’s is one of the best, and their interpretation has important implications for contemporary strategic debates.”

—Stephen M. Walt, Foreign Policy Online

“It is an excellent history, providing the best treatment of the question, ‘Who ended the Cold War, Reagan or Gorbachev?’”

—H. Neilson, Choice

We Ain’t What We Ought To Be
The Black Freedom Struggle from Emancipation to Obama
STEPHEN TUCK
★ BAA Book Prize, British Association for American Studies
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year
“We Ain’t What We Ought To Be is a collection of voices that document our struggle for equality in America from the Reconstruction era until now. It’s all here—the great speeches and moments—but it’s the nod to the common woman and man that lifts this narrative a notch above similar titles.”
—PATRICK HENRY BASS, ESSENCE

Quest for Equality
The Failed Promise of Black-Brown Solidarity
NEIL FOLEY
★ TIL Award for Most Significant Scholarly Book, Texas Institute of Letters
★ Finalist, William P. Clements Prize, William P. Clements Center for Southwest Studies at Southern Methodist University
★ A Huffington Post Best Social and Political Awareness Book of the Year
“This concise, important work considers the possibilities but ultimate failure of the African American and Mexican American communities to unite in their struggle for civil rights.”
—D. O. CULLEN, CHOICE

Fugitive Justice
Runaways, Recusers, and Slavery on Trial
STEVEN LUBET
★ Honorable Mention, David J. Langum, Sr. Prize in American Legal History
“Lubet’s excellent book skillfully captures the passion of the corrosive courtroom battles that pitted personal conscience against the rule of law and helped persuade North and South that they could no longer dwell together.”
—DAVID O. STEWART, AUTHOR OF IMPEACHED

Also available
DEMOCRACY’S PRISONER
Eugene V. Debs, the Great War, and the Right to Disent
ERNST FREEBERG
★ Order of the Coif Book Award, National Order of the Coif
★ Co-Winner, James Willard Hurst Prize, Law and Society Association

WHAT BLOOD WON’T TELL
A History of Race on Trial in America
ARELIA J. GROSS
★ Co-Winner, James Willard Hurst Prize, Law and Society Association
★ American Political Science Association Award, Best Book on Race, Ethnicity and Politics
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year

We Ain’t What We Ought To Be
The Black Freedom Struggle from Emancipation to Obama
STEPHEN TUCK
★ BAA Book Prize, British Association for American Studies
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year
“We Ain’t What We Ought To Be is a collection of voices that document our struggle for equality in America from the Reconstruction era until now. It’s all here—the great speeches and moments—but it’s the nod to the common woman and man that lifts this narrative a notch above similar titles.”
—PATRICK HENRY BASS, ESSENCE

Quest for Equality
The Failed Promise of Black-Brown Solidarity
NEIL FOLEY
★ TIL Award for Most Significant Scholarly Book, Texas Institute of Letters
★ Finalist, William P. Clements Prize, William P. Clements Center for Southwest Studies at Southern Methodist University
★ A Huffington Post Best Social and Political Awareness Book of the Year
“This concise, important work considers the possibilities but ultimate failure of the African American and Mexican American communities to unite in their struggle for civil rights.”
—D. O. CULLEN, CHOICE

Fugitive Justice
Runaways, Recusers, and Slavery on Trial
STEVEN LUBET
★ Honorable Mention, David J. Langum, Sr. Prize in American Legal History
“Lubet’s excellent book skillfully captures the passion of the corrosive courtroom battles that pitted personal conscience against the rule of law and helped persuade North and South that they could no longer dwell together.”
—DAVID O. STEWART, AUTHOR OF IMPEACHED

Also available
DEMOCRACY’S PRISONER
Eugene V. Debs, the Great War, and the Right to Disent
ERNST FREEBERG
★ Order of the Coif Book Award, National Order of the Coif
★ Co-Winner, James Willard Hurst Prize, Law and Society Association

WHAT BLOOD WON’T TELL
A History of Race on Trial in America
ARELIA J. GROSS
★ Co-Winner, James Willard Hurst Prize, Law and Society Association
★ American Political Science Association Award, Best Book on Race, Ethnicity and Politics
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year

www.hup.harvard.edu / 1-800-405-1619 (in U.S. only)
NEW

His Majesty’s Opponent
Subhas Chandra Bose and India’s Struggle against Empire
SUGATA BOSE
 “[A] lucid and meticulous new biography.”
—SUDIP BOSE, BOOKFORUM

“[This] biography of Indian nationalist hero Subhas Chandra Bose could help resuscitate the leader’s troubled reputation outside of India… His Majesty’s Opponent aims to be the definitive biography of a man who, as the author writes, devoted his life to ensuring the sun did finally set on the British Empire… Bose’s life is an action-packed thriller tailor-made for biographical treatment.”
—TOM WRIGHT, WALL STREET JOURNAL BLOG

“[His Majesty’s Opponent] is and will remain the definitive biography of Subhas Bose… In terms of sheer craftsmanship and mastery over material, this is an achievement that will evoke the admiration and envy of any historian-biographer.”
—RUDRANGSHU MUKHERJEE, THE TELEGRAPH

NEW

Changing Homelands
Hindu Politics and the Partition of India
NEETI NAIR
“An extremely able work.”
—A. G. NOORANI, FRONTLINE

“The well-researched study, providing a wealth of information drawn from a wide variety of sources, serves more than a purely academic purpose. It gives the lay reader a clearer understanding of the subcontinent’s history in its crucial phase, the part of history that continues to be distorted by diverse groups of holy crusaders.”
—J. SRI RAMAN, THE HINDU

“This engagingly written book places Punjabi Hindus at the center of Partition scholarship. Nair’s often devastating examination of the complex considerations and unfathomable burdens that weighed on the minds of millions as they ‘chose’ to migrate reveals fresh thinking about religion and politics in South Asia.”
—MRIDU RAI, AUTHOR OF HINDU RULERS, MUSLIM SUBJECTS

NEW

Makers of Modern India
EDITED BY RAMACHANDRA GUHA
“As an anthology of Indian political debates, Makers of Modern India makes for instructive reading.”
—PANKAJ MISHRA, FINANCIAL TIMES

 “[Guha] has collected the writings and speeches of a range of influential personalities in the struggle to free India from its colonial yoke and set it on a new path as a modern nation… The result is a skillfully edited collection that will serve as an erudite introduction to the foundations of modern India.”
—RAMESH THAKUR, THE AUSTRALIAN

BELKNAP 2011 68 halftones, 3 maps 448 pp.
Cloth $35.00 / £25.95 OISC ISBN 978-0-674-04754-9

NEW

The Politics of Imagining Asia
WANG HUI
Edited by Theodore Huters
“Valuable reading for Westerners who want to understand what China’s emergence might mean beyond strictly economic terms. A book that deserves attention now.”
—JAMES FALLOWS, NATIONAL CORRESPONDENT FOR THE ATLANTIC

“[Wang Hui] questions the reigning paradigms of Chinese studies and China watching, tracing them to their historical and intellectual roots. Delineating alternative concepts and practices in Chinese thought and history, Wang seeks not to assert a Chinese difference against universal paradigms but rather to articulate Chinese pursuits of modernity as both unique and brimming with world-historical significance. These essays are indispensable guides for anyone willing to rethink the inherited modes of inquiry about China.”
—BAN WANG, STANFORD UNIVERSITY

BELKNAP 2011 368 pp.
Cloth $35.00 / £25.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05519-3
NEW PACIFIC COSMOPOLITANS
A Cultural History of U.S.-Japan Relations
MICHAEL R. AUSLIN
“This book fills an important gap.”
—LESLEY DOWNER, LITERARY REVIEW
“A splendid and nuanced account of the history of cultural exchange between Americans and Japanese. Auslin presents a fascinating story of the evolution of Pacific cosmopolitans, who promoted cultural understanding and interaction between the two countries even in periods of geopolitical tension or economic friction. The book is of real value for its sophisticated discussion of strategic, economic, and especially cultural dimensions of U.S.-Japanese relations, which are also relevant to other bilateral relationships in the world.”
—AKIRA IRIYE, HARVARD UNIVERSITY
2011 17 halftones 344 pp.
Cloth $49.95 / £36.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04597-2

NEW IN PAPERBACK
STRAIT TALK
United States-Taiwan Relations and the Crisis with China
NANCY BERNKOPF TUCKER
“[Tucker] focuses on the less-studied Washington-Taipei leg of the Beijing-Washington-Taipei triangle, tracing the interaction of policies and personalities with a level of detail made possible by extensive interviews and archival research and with a clarity of judgment made possible by a long familiarity with most of the protagonists.”
—ANDREW J. NATHAN, FOREIGN AFFAIRS
2011; 2009 11 illus., 1 map 404 pp.
Paper $22.95 / £16.95 ISBN 978-0-674-06052-4
Also available
ALLIES OF THE STATE
China’s Private Entrepreneurs and Democratic Change
JIE CHEN and BRUCE J. DICSON
Cloth $45.00 / £33.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04896-6

NEW THE PARK CHUNG HEE ERA
The Transformation of South Korea
EDITED BY BYUNG-KOOK KIM and EZRA F. VOGEL
In 1959 South Korea was mired in poverty. By 1979, it had a powerful industrial economy and a vibrant civil society that led to democracy eight years later. This volume examines the transformation as a study in the politics of modernization, contextualizing many historical ambiguities in South Korea’s trajectory toward sustainable economic growth.
“This remarkable book will establish itself as the most significant work on the Park period.”
—STEPHEN HAGGARD, UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA SAN DIEGO
2011 5 tables 744 pp.
Cloth $55.00 / £40.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05820-0

NEW IN PAPERBACK
FRACTURED REBELLION
The Beijing Red Guard Movement
ANDREW G. WALDER
★ Barrington Moore Award, American Sociological Association
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year
Fractured Rebellion is the first full-length account of the evolution of China’s Red Guard Movement in Beijing.
“Revealing…Walder’s book, the first on the Beijing Red Guards, concentrates entirely on the movement in the capital’s universities and schools and the conflicts among them, mighty subjects in themselves.”
—JONATHAN MIRSKY,
NEW YORK REVIEW OF BOOKS
Also available
CULTIVATING GLOBAL CITIZENS
Population in the Rise of China
SUZAN GREENHALGH
Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05371-1
NEW
Awakening Islam
The Politics of Religious Dissent in Contemporary Saudi Arabia
STÉPHANE LACROIX
Translated by George Holoch
★ A Foreign Policy Best Book of the Year on the Middle East

“Al-Sahwa Al-Islamiyya or ‘Islamic Awakening’ was one of the most powerful social movements in the history of Saudi Arabia. It is also one of the least documented—until now. Stéphane Lacroix tells the story of this movement in his splendid new book… Lacroix’s study is timely and original. Serious students of Saudi Arabia need to read this important book. They will be enlightened by it and moved to seek more knowledge about the Kingdom.”
—JOSEPH RICHARD PREVILLE, SAUDI GAZETTE

IN THE SHADOW OF SECTARIANISM
Law, Shi’ism, and the Making of Modern Lebanon
MAX WEISS

“An eloquently written and elegantly argued study—from both above and below—of the ways in which sectarianism became an important part of life for the Shi’i community in mandate Lebanon. Weiss provides a crucial addition to historical scholarship and a critical corrective to narratives that locate the beginnings of Shi’i collective identity and action with the arrival of Musa al-Sadr on the scene—narratives that remain dominant not only in scholarly work but also in popular imagination in Lebanon. This sophisticated book makes innovative use of underutilized sources and is altogether a fascinating read.”
—L. CARL BROWN, FOREIGN AFFAIRS

NEW IN PAPERBACK
Shi’ism
A Religion of Protest
HAMID DABASHI
★ A Marginal Revolution Best Book of the Year

“[A] challenging and brilliant new book… Dabashi’s extraordinarily rich and powerful book takes Shi’ism out of the sectarian ghettos where it was largely confined when it became an ideological weapon of the Persian Empire in its rivalry with the Sunni Ottomans. By emancipating Shi’ism from its instrumental use by the Islamic Republic of Iran, he has performed a vital cultural—and political—service.”
—MALISE RUTHVEN, NEW YORK REVIEW OF BOOKS

DESSERT KINGDOM
How Oil and Water Forged Modern Saudi Arabia
TOBY CRAIG JONES
★ A Vancouver Sun Top Ten Business Book of the Year

“For a desert kingdom to concern itself with the control of water would seem to be a given, but the subject has received slight attention in studies of Saudi Arabia. Although oil has always figured prominently in Saudi studies, this book is surely the first to trace Saudi policies concerning oil and water since the 1920s.”
—L. CARL BROWN, FOREIGN AFFAIRS
THE QUEST FOR DEMOCRACY IN IRAN
A Century of Struggle against Authoritarian Rule
FAKHREDIN AZIMI ★ Mossadegh Prize, Mossadegh Foundation
“For Azimi, all Iranian history after 1905 is an attempt to fulfill, partially accommodate, or circumvent the ideals of a constitutional movement that placed popular representation at the fore of its priorities. He traces how at various moments public alienation and resentment have been articulated or expressed and finally, how ‘a culture of confrontation’ emerged. His book goes a long way toward recuperating a history of Iranian democracy that has been expunged by Orientalists who wonder aloud if there is something about Muslim lands that makes them inhospitable to democracy or, alternatively, those who have dismissed periods of hectic parliamentary activity as mere chaos.”
—NEGAR AZIMI, THE NATION

BEYOND TERROR AND MARTYRDOM
The Future of the Middle East
GILLES KEPEL
Translated by Pascale Ghazaleh ★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year
“Gilles Kepel…[has] done more than most writers to open the minds of Western readers to the world of Islam…Beyond Terror and Martyrdom is a strong critique of what he calls the two ‘grand narratives’ that have created so much havoc in the Middle East, and by extension in Europe too.”
—IAN BURUMA, NEW YORK REVIEW OF BOOKS

NEW IN PAPERBACK
LATIN AMERICA’S COLD WAR
HAL BRANDS
“As Brands persuasively argues, the true story of Latin America’s role in the Cold War lies in the dynamic interactions between international forces and domestic actors. Tragically, both the United States and the Soviet Union exacerbated the region’s already polarized politics, and the ensuing violent clashes rendered asunder fragile democracies.”
—RICHARD FEINBERG, FOREIGN AFFAIRS
“Globally, analysts claim that the Cold War provided stability and structure. Brands finds a different outcome in Latin America of the four decades of the Cold War…Brands’s study will stand as the definitive work in the years ahead.”
—J. A. RHODES, CHOICE

MARRIAGE AND SLAVERY IN EARLY ISLAM
KECIA ALI
“A remarkable research accomplishment. Ali leads us through three strands of early Islamic jurisprudence with careful attention to the nuances and details of the arguments.”
—JUDITH TUCKER, AUTHOR OF WOMEN, FAMILY, AND GENDER IN ISLAMIC LAW

Also available
CONTESTED LANDS
Israel-Palestine, Kashmir, Bosnia, Cyprus, and Sri Lanka
SUJATA ROSE

PARTISANS OF ALLAH
Jihad in South Asia
AYESH JALAL

20 INTERNATIONAL GOVERNMENT AND HISTORY
www.hup.harvard.edu / 1-800-405-1619 (in U.S. only)
Law is a specific form of social regulation distinct from religion, ethics, and even politics, and endowed with a strong and autonomous rationality. Its invention, a crucial aspect of Western history, took place against the backdrop of the Roman Empire’s gradual consolidation. Schiavone reconstructs this development with clear-eyed passion.

“Everyone recognizes that during the early Roman Empire law emerged as a professionalized and vital part of statecraft, but few understand the wrenching intellectual controversy that accompanied the transformation. Aldo Schiavone’s terrific book brings this historic debate into dazzling focus.”

— BRUCE FRIER, UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

New in paperback

The Shock of the Global

The 1970s in Perspective
EDITED BY NIALL FERGUSON, CHARLES S. MAIER, EREZ MANELA, AND DANIEL SARGENT

“[A] masterful book.”
— MICHAEL CASE, IRISH TIMES

“A serious and impressive in-depth study of an unjustly neglected decade.”
— BILL PERRETT, THE AGE

“A grab-bag of lively academic essays that covers everything from the proliferation of global non-government organizations to the worldwide women’s movement to smallpox eradication.”

— CHRISTIAN CARYL, FOREIGN POLICY

Also available

Guilt and Defense
On the Legacies of National Socialism in Postwar Germany
THEODOR W. ADORNO

Edited, translated, and introduced by Jeffrey K. Olick and Andrew J. Perrin
NEW
A Long Goodbye
The Soviet Withdrawal from Afghanistan
ARTEMY M. KALINOVSKY
“[Kalinovsky’s] account is meticulously documented and supplemented by interviews with surviving Russian protagonists. Though further documents will no doubt come to light, it is unlikely his lucid and elegant narrative will soon be bettered.”
—RODRI G B R A I T H W A I T E, FINANCIAL TIMES
“The Soviet war in Afghanistan (1979–89) has passed from being the subject of angry international debate to the object of calm historical inquiry, but given the current conflict there, the period retains a certain urgent resonance. [This] new book sheds useful light on those days…[A] highly detailed study of the Soviet withdrawal.”
—B R I A N M. D O W N I N G, WALL STREET JOURNAL

NEW IN PAPERBACK
The Grand Strategy of the Byzantine Empire
EDWARD N. LU T T W A K
★ Honorable Mention, Association of American Publishers PROSE Award, Classics and Ancient History
“Nothing Luttwak writes is uninteresting…It is rare and refreshing to find such deep research on a great empire of the past deployed so eloquently for the guidance of the beleaguered governments of the present.”
—GLEN B OW E R SO C K, LONDON REVIEW OF BOOKS

NEW IN PAPERBACK
Why Race Matters in South Africa
MICHAEL MACDONALD
“Why Race Matters is an exposure of the intimate link between racialism and political economic power, how in Neville Alexander’s words, a nonracial capitalism is impossible, as it is also a devastating critique of the limitations of liberal non-racialism, conceived as the ‘representation of identities.’ But is it also, for political theorists, a paradigmatic case study of a future perfect (not subjunctive) politics of the impossible, an empirical enactment of a non-racialism to come.”
—D I ANE R U B E N S T E I N, POLITICAL THEORY

NEW IN PAPERBACK
Saturday Is for Funerals
UNITY DOW AND MAX ESSEX
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year
“The epidemic of HIV and AIDS marching across Africa is threatening to crush entire countries under its weight. Saturday Is for Funerals tells the story of how one country, Botswana, is stemming the epidemic with bold political leadership, a strategic and scientific approach, and more than a little grit.”
—PRIYA SHETTY, NEW SCIENTIST

THE IMPERIAL MOMENT
EDITED BY KIMBERLY KAGAN
“This impressive book offers a comparative analysis and fresh approach for the study of empire.”
—JEREMI SURI, AUTHOR OF HENRY KISSINGER AND THE AMERICAN CENTURY
2010 7 maps 268 pp. Cloth $52.50 / £38.95 ISBN 978-0-674-03587-4

INTERNATIONAL GOVERNMENT AND HISTORY
www.hup.harvard.edu / 1-800-405-1619 (in U.S. only)
NEW LEGALLY POISONED
How the Law Puts Us at Risk from Toxicants
CARL F. CRANOR
“In this compelling, well-referenced work, Cranor addresses a prominent public health concern: environmental chemicals and their suspected toxicities. He adroitly presents historical drug failures (e.g., thalidomide and diethylstilbestrol), along with the associated public fear and outrage. The book offers excellent advice regarding the future status of environmental and human effects of chemicals and drugs. It asks readers to stay informed and to participate in public debate and legislation in this area.”
— J. G. SCHNELLMANN, CHOICE
“[An] important new book…Legally Poisoned makes it ever so clear that Americans are at risk of being poisoned and the reason is the postmarket design of the laws that are supposed to protect us from harmful chemicals…Hopefully this book will help to focus attention why the United States should follow the EU’s lead in requiring premarket testing of chemicals.”
— SIDNEY A. SHAPIRO, AMERICAN JOURNAL OF INDUSTRIAL MEDICINE

NEW IN PAPERBACK
THE ART AND CRAFT OF INTERNATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL LAW
DANIEL BODANSKY
★ Harold and Margaret Sprout Award, International Studies Association
“A sweeping review of the theory and practice of environmental protection at the global scale. Simply written and yet deeply insightful, the book explains the forces, actors, and processes that determine how international environmental rules and norms emerge and whether they get implemented.”
— DANIEL C. ESTY, YALE UNIVERSITY
“An accessible, yet sophisticated, review of legal and institutional efforts to address global environmental problems. It can be read with profit by anyone interested in understanding this important and rapidly changing field.”
— ROBERT O. KEOHANE, PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

NEW LISTED
Dispatches from America’s Endangered Species Act
JOE ROMAN
★ A Mother Nature Network Best Green and Environmental Book of the Year
“In Listed, conservation biologist Joe Roman recounts the uses and abuses of a well-intentioned but all-too-human law…Roman’s meandering and occasionally lyrical book is generally optimistic about the law he is chronicling, and he tends toward win-win tales.”
— KATHERINE MANGU-WARD, WALL STREET JOURNAL
“Read[s] like dispatches from a war reporter in the midst of battle…Listed takes an idiosyncratic approach to the [Endangered Species Act], using it as an entry to many issues and controversies in conservation…Readers will enjoy the book. They will also come away having gained a deeper understanding of the Act, along with a plethora of interesting facts about listed species.”
— DANIEL SIMBERLOFF, AMERICAN SCIENTIST

NEW IN PAPERBACK
FACING CATASTROPHE
Environmental Action for a Post-Katrina World
ROBERT R. M. VERCHICK
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year
“The book is an important attempt to, among other things, take the ‘lessons of Katrina’ and make from them a new kind of national policy: one that can calculate the economic value of ‘natural infrastructure’—like Louisiana’s coastal wetlands, which help to diminish the ferocity of incoming hurricanes—and can use that calculation to make saner cost-benefit decisions about our environment.”
— HARRY SHEARER, HUFFINGTON POST
NEW
ROADS TO POWER
Britain Invents the Infrastructure State
JO GULDI
“In its masterful integration of technological and political history, this book provides an original, lucid, and exceptionally well-written study of an important episode in the modern co-evolution of transportation infrastructure and government power.”
—ROSALIND WILLIAMS, MASSACHUSETTS INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

“If anyone doubts the power of infrastructure investment to change the course of a nation, they have only to read Roads to Power. Required for those who aim to shape the 21st century.”
—TIM O’REILLY, FOUNDER AND CEO, O’REILLY MEDIA INC.

NEW
SLOW VIOLENCE AND THE ENVIRONMENTALISM OF THE POOR
ROB NIXON
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year
“This is a fine book, disturbing and revealing in content, and worthy of lengthy study.”
—JULES PRETTY, TIMES HIGHER EDUCATION

“Inspiring, innovative, and passionate. Nixon forces us to confront some of the most urgent issues facing the continued existence of humans on the planet.”
—HAZEL CARBY, YALE UNIVERSITY
2011 5 halftones 370 pp. Cloth $45.00 / £33.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04930-7

NEW
THE CRISIS IN ENERGY POLICY
JOHN M. DEUTCH
With an extraordinary mix of technical, scholarly, corporate, and governmental expertise, John Deutch offers an eye-opening history of the muddled practices that have passed for energy policy over the past thirty years, and a cogent account of what we can learn from so many breakdowns of strategy and execution.

“Only a person with Deutch’s extraordinary mix of deep technical expertise and broad government experience could have written such an insightful book on the challenges confronting those who would affect the energy policy of this country.”
—LINDA G. STUNTZ, FORMER DEPUTY SECRETARY OF THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY

Also available
BENDING SCIENCE
How Special Interests Corrupt Public Health Research
THOMAS MCGARITY AND WENDY WAGNER
★ Hamilton Book Award, University of Texas at Austin Cooperative Society

WHEN ALL ELSE FAILS
Government as the Ultimate Risk Manager
DAVID A. MOSS
★ Kulp-Wright Book Award, American Risk and Insurance Association

WORST-CASE SCENARIOS
CASS R. SUNSTEIN
NEW

WHEN WALL STREET MET MAIN STREET
The Quest for an Investors’ Democracy
JULIA C. OTT
“A brilliant examination of the origins of our investors democracy. Ott reveals how participation in financial markets became the embodiment of citizenship. Beautifully written and rigorously researched, she makes clear that our contemporary entanglement with finance is nothing new.”
—STEPHEN MIHM, AUTHOR OF A NATION OF COUNTERFEITERS

“Ott’s stunning book provides much needed history to a modern America that takes mutual funds, 401ks, and stock options for granted… Ott astutely reveals the benefits and costs of becoming a nation of stockholders.”
—LIZABETH COHEN, AUTHOR OF A CONSUMERS’ REPUBLIC

2011 29 halftones, 2 maps, 1 graph 352 pp.
Cloth $35.00 / £25.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05065-5

NEW

THE MATTER OF CAPITAL
Poetry and Crisis in the American Century
CHRISTOPHER NEALON
“The Matter of Capital is a gift for anyone who wonders about the relationship between art and political economy. It is a superhero of a book, able to leap centuries at a single bound… zipping back and forth across the membranes that divide and link poetry and capitalism.”
—SHARON MARCUS, COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

“Boldly taking on, in best Benjaminian fashion, the relation between poetry and capitalism, Chris Nealon offers compelling readings of poets’ responses to socio-economic change.”
—JONATHAN CULLER, CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Cloth $35.00 / £25.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05872-9

NEW

THE CRISIS OF NEOLIBERALISM
GÉRARD DUMÉNIL AND DOMINIQUE LÉVY
“An ambitious and original treatment of the ongoing global economic crisis. Duménil and Lévy provide both an in-depth statistical and historical narrative and an overarching analytical framework.”
—THOMAS R. MICHL, AUTHOR OF CAPITALISTS, WORKERS, AND FISCAL POLICY

“An insightful account of the factors that have led to the economic downturn. As Duménil and Lévy make clear, the economy cannot just return to its pre-crisis path.”
—DEAN BAKER, CENTER FOR ECONOMIC AND POLICY RESEARCH

2011 76 line illus., 6 charts, 21 tables 400 pp.
Cloth $49.95 / £36.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04988-8

NEW IN PAPERBACK

THE CRISIS OF CAPITALIST DEMOCRACY
RICHARD A. POSNER
★ Financial Times Financial Book of the Year
“A clear and brilliant exposition of the greatest economic news story for generations.”
—AZAR NAFASI, THE TIMES

2011; 2010 2 graphs 408 pp.

NEW IN PAPERBACK

A FAILURE OF CAPITALISM
The Crisis of ’08 and the Descent into Depression
RICHARD A. POSNER
“By the last page, not a single lazy generalization has survived Posner’s merciless scrutiny, not one populist cliché remains standing.”
—JONATHAN RAUCH, NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW

2011; 2009 368 pp.

U.S. ECONOMICS
25
New in Paperback

Plantation Enterprise in Colonial South Carolina

S. Max Edelson

- George C. Rogers, Jr. Book Award
- Theodore Saloutos Memorial Book Award

“Edelson deftly traces how some early colonists overcame their prejudice toward marshes and swamps to develop a profitable plantation system.”

—Alan Gallay, Journal of American History

2011 6 halftones, 1 line illus., 5 maps, 15 tables 400 pp.

Killing for Coal

America’s Deadliest Labor War

Thomas G. Andrews

- Bancroft Prize
- George Perkins Marsh Prize, Best Book in Environmental History
- Colorado Book Award for History
- Vincent P. DeSantis Prize, Society for Historians of the Gilded Age and Progressive Era
- Spence Award, Mining History Association
- Caroline Bancroft History Prize, Denver Public Library
- Honorable Mention, Norris and Carol Hundley Award, Pacific Coast Branch of the American Historical Association
- Finalist, William P. Clements Prize, Southwest History Category, William P. Clements Center for Southwest Studies at Southern Methodist University
- Noteworthy Book in Industrial Relations and Labor Economics, Industrial Relations Section of Princeton Firestone Library

“A groundbreaking work about coal and coal development, labor relations, and class conflict.”

—Sandra Dallas, Denver Post

2010; 2008 30 halftones, 4 maps 408 pp.

Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-03101-2

New in Paperback

Selling Sounds

The Commercial Revolution in American Music

David Suismann

- Vincent P. DeSantis Prize, Society for Historians of the Gilded Age and Progressive Era
- Hagley Prize in Business History
- ARSC Excellence in Historical Recorded Sound Research
- Honorable Mention, Woody Guthrie Award, International Association for the Study of Popular Music
- A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year

“David Suismann kicks the legs out from the romantic account of the music industry’s innocent start and slow move to commercial heartlessness.”

—J. Gabriel Boylan, The Nation

2012; 2009 41 halftones 368 pp.

Also available

The Ideologies of Taxation

Lois Eisenstein

Foreword by David A. Weisbach

2010 240 pp.

Network Nation

Inventing American Telecommunications

Richard R. John

- Ralph Goings Prize, Business History Conference
- Best Journalism and Mass Communication History Book Award, History Division of the Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication

Belknap 2010 528 pp.

Cloth $39.95 / £29.95 ISBN 978-0-674-02429-8

To Serve God and Wal-Mart

The Making of Christian Free Enterprise

Bethany Moreton

- Frederick Jackson Turner Award
- John Hope Franklin Publication Prize
- A Boston Phoenix Best Book of the Year

2010; 2009 392 pp.

Paper $17.95 / £13.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05740-1
“Elegantly written and extremely thoughtful … Writing about someone like Keynes who personally wrote so much, so well, must be a daunting task. Backhouse and Bateman more than keep up, not by competing with Keynes, but by letting him speak, in all his many voices… As they make clear in their discussion of Keynesianism after Keynes, his relationship with his own legacy is complex and ambiguous. He was not a man to be pinned down because he recognized that the world, which includes matters of economics as well as so much more, is neither simple, straightforward, nor apprehensible by time-bound men armed with doctrines and dogmas. That alone is a lesson well worth revisiting regularly.”

—ROBERT TEITELMAN, THE DEAL

THE RETURN TO KEYNES
EDITED BY BRADLEY W. BATEMAN, TOSHIKAI HIBAI, AND MARIA CRISTINA MARCUZZO

“During the 1990s, John Maynard Keynes, and Keynesian economics, were declared to be well and truly dead. Then came the financial and economic crises of 2008 and they were reborn as a way of understanding economies with significant unemployment. This excellent collection of essays, brought together by three prominent scholars of Keynes and Keynesian policy, will be a convenient way for those who have forgotten Keynesian economics to refresh themselves, and for others to learn for the first time.”

—CRAUFURD GOODWIN, DUKE UNIVERSITY

NEW
BEFORE AND BEYOND DIVERGENCEThe Politics of Economic Change in China and EuropeJEAN-LAURENT ROSENTHAL AND R. BIN WONG

“With its sustained, rigorous economic analysis and frequently compressed exposition of complex arguments, this taut monograph is a formidable but rewarding read. Rosenthal and Wong boldly tackle one of the most challenging questions in comparative economic history: why did sustained economic growth arise in Europe rather than China? The authors systematically demolish conventional narratives touting the superiority of European political, social, and economic institutions over their Chinese counterparts…By impelling urbanization and a demand for capital-using technologies, Europe’s constant wars rather than China’s long peace laid the groundwork for modern economic growth.”

—R. P. GARDELLA, CHOICE
2011 4 maps, 3 tables 290 pp. Cloth $45.00 / £33.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05791-3

NEW IN PAPERBACK
BETTER LIVING THROUGH ECONOMICSEDITED BY JOHN J. SEGFRID

★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year

“This volume should be on the shelf of any self-respecting economist and would make for a perfect supplemental text for any introductory or intermediate class in economics…It is also written at a level allowing people who are economically illiterate to read with enjoyment.”

—P. SHAW, CHOICE

NEW
TRANSLATING EMPIREEmulation and the Origins of Political EconomySOPHUS A. REINERT

“It is rare to read a work of such originality and creativity, as well as breadth of ambition: With Reinhert’s evidence in hand, the entire history of economic thought and the origins of imperial industrialism will have to be reconsidered.”

—JACOB SOLL, RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

“Translating Empire convincingly argues that the development of eighteenth-century political economy must be understood in the context of the often brutal rivalries unfolding in Europe and its colonial peripheries. It is a welcome antidote to the historical literature that has used the discourse of free trade to explain Enlightenment-era political economy.”

—PAUL CHENEY, UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
2011 2 maps, 20 graphs 456 pp. Cloth $55.00 / £40.95 ISBN 978-0-674-06151-4

NEW IN PAPERBACK
NATURAL EXPERIMENTS OF HISTORYEDITED BY JARED DIAMOND AND JAMES A. ROBINSON

“Natural Experiments of History is a short book packed with huge ideas. Its collected essays advocate how controlled experiments can be applied to the messy realities of human history, politics, culture, economics, and the environment…All of the essays in Natural Experiments of History will trigger debate.”

—JON CHRISTENSEN, NATURE

www.hup.harvard.edu / 1-800-405-1619 (in U.S. only)
NEW PLANNING ARMAGEDDON
British Economic Warfare and the First World War
NICHOLAS A. LAMBERT
“A magnificent achievement, one of the most important books in decades on the origins and conduct of the Great War. Lambert offers a complete rethinking of British strategy before and into the war. Readers will be feasting on this rich meal for years.”
—SAMUEL R. WILLIAMSON, JR., UNIVERSITY OF THE SOUTH, EMERITUS
“A major contribution that will completely revise how we understand Britain’s role in the First World War.”
—KEITH NEILSON, ROYAL MILITARY COLLEGE OF CANADA
2012 1 map, 1 table  662 pp.
Cloth $45.00 / £33.95 ISBN 978-0-674-06149-1

SO GREAT A PROFIT
How the East Indies Trade Transformed Anglo-American Capitalism
JAMES R. FICHTER
★ Thomas J. Wilson Memorial Prize
★ Honorable Mention, Ralph Gonory Prize, Business History Conference
“[A] wonderful and important book…Fichter tells a story of war, empire, trade, smuggling, capital accumulation, and enormous transformations in political economy between the last decade of the eighteenth century and the third decade of the nineteenth…The Pacific lay on the horizon of opportunity for Americans across the political spectrum, but its pursuit would nearly blow the country apart. James Fichter’s excellent book helps us to understand the political and economic genealogies of this powerful vision, and how the Pacific world would come to rival, if not supersede, the Atlantic in American history.”
—STEVEN HAHN, NEW REPUBLIC ONLINE
2010 1 map, 9 charts, 6 tables  400 pp.
Cloth $35.00 / £25.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05057-0

NEW
CASUALTIES OF CREDIT
The English Financial Revolution, 1620–1720
CARL WENNERLIND
“By revealing credit’s perilous partners in early modern England, among them alchemy, slavery, and death, Carl Wennerlind’s richly documented study boldly revises the cultural history of the Financial Revolution and puts our current calamities into a salutary long-term perspective.”
—DAVID ARMITAGE, AUTHOR OF THE IDEOLOGICAL ORIGINS OF THE BRITISH EMPIRE
“A timely and important book explaining why England forged a financial revolution that not only allowed it to become the leading imperial power but also the first industrial nation…No one interested in the origins of the modern world, or in the contemporary debt crisis, should miss this book.”
—STEVEN PINCUS, YALE UNIVERSITY

Also available
REVOLUTIONARY COMMERCE
Globalization and the French Monarchy
PAUL CHERRY
Cloth $49.95 / £36.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04726-6

ADVERTISING EMPIRE
Race and Visual Culture in Imperial Germany
DAVID CARLO
Cloth $49.95 / £36.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05006-8

LOST ILLUSIONS
The Politics of Publishing in Nineteenth-Century France
CHRISTINE HAINES
Cloth $47.50 / £35.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05576-8

BRAND NEW CHINA
Advertising, Media, and Commercial Culture
JING WANG
Economists make confident assertions in op-ed columns and on cable news—so why are their explanations at odds with equally confident assertions from other economists? And why are all economic predictions so rarely borne out? Harnessing his frustration with this contradiction, Schlefer sets out to investigate how economists arrive at their opinions.

“A marvel of clarity and elegance, The Assumptions Economists Make is the best book I’ve read about the ideas and practices of economists. With great respect, curiosity, insight, and wit, Jonathan Schlefer has given readers a sense of how the models and metaphors of economics inform our most important public policy debates. He manages to connect the theories that economists produce—and the assumptions that go along with the theories—to economists’ varied, influential roles in public life as policymakers and public intellectuals.”

—RAWI ABDELAL, HARVARD BUSINESS SCHOOL

Consistency, Choice, and Rationality

WALTER BOSSERT AND KOTARO SUZUMURA

“In this probing and innovative exploration of the foundations and analytical properties of reasoned choice, two of the most powerful contributors to choice theory have clarified and extended our understanding of these issues in a definitive way. We have reasons to be grateful.”

—AMARTYA SEN, HARVARD UNIVERSITY

NEW
THE ILLUSION OF FREE MARKETS

Punishment and the Myth of Natural Order

BERNARD E. HARCOURT

“Not only is the ‘free’ market of laissez-faire doctrine not free, it underpins the extravagant unfreedom of our metastasized penal system, argues this provocative intellectual history…The author mounts an incisive attack on the association of markets with freedom and government with repression…The result is a stimulating challenge to conventional wisdom.”

—PUBLISHERS WEEKLY

NEW in paperback
A SOLUTIONS MANUAL FOR GENERAL EQUILIBRIUM, OVERLAPPING GENERATIONS MODELS, AND OPTIMAL GROWTH THEORY

TRUMAN F. BEWLEY

Also available
GENERAL EQUILIBRIUM, OVERLAPPING GENERATIONS MODELS, AND OPTIMAL GROWTH THEORY

TRUMAN F. BEWLEY

2007 624 pp. Cloth $78.50 / £58.95 ISBN 978-0-674-02288-1

ECONOMIC THEORY

www.hup.harvard.edu / 1-800-405-1619 (in U.S. only)
Taylor strives to reinstate not just Keynes but an entire school of economics… The deeper point Taylor makes is that much of modern economics is actually derived from insights provided by economists in previous ages. He powerfully illustrates this in almost every chapter in his book.”
—NIRANJAN RAJADHYAKSHA, MINT

“Lance Taylor has written a tome for our times. It is engaging and forceful, the analysis is of the highest order, and the exposition of very complex ideas is wonderfully clear.”
—GEOFFREY HARCOURT, UNIVERSITY OF NEW SOUTH WALES

THE DISMAL SCIENCE
How Thinking Like an Economist Undermines Community
STEPHEN A. MARGLIN
“An exceptionally learned, uncompromisingly contrarian critique of markets and economics.”
—ERIC JONES, EH.NET

“Marglin makes a powerful and convincing argument for how thinking like an economist undermines community. Suddenly, the choices of those who reject global capitalism seem far more reasonable.”
—TIKKUN

THE MYSTERY OF ECONOMIC GROWTH
ELHANAN HELPMAN
“This is the book to read if you want to learn about what we know about ‘economic growth’ and what the remaining mysteries are.”
—SEBNEM KALEMLI-OZCAN, JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL ECONOMICS

“Helpman is himself a master of the art of economics and his master’s hand is evident on each page. In making his point, he takes the reader on a fast, yet detailed tour of some of the most important writing on economic growth in the last twenty years.”
—GEORGE K. DAVIS, EH.NET

“This is an engaging book and it should be read by anyone interested in bridging the divide between economics and social policy.”
—JOURNAL OF SOCIOLOGY AND SOCIAL WELFARE
“This is a marvelous book—lucid, cogent, and lively, full of fascinating anecdotes and news about what university science costs, who pays for it, and who benefits. Paula Stephan saw science as an economic enterprise long before other economists did, and she’s written what will be the definitive book for years to come.”

—RICHARD FREEMAN, HERBERT ASCHERMAN CHAIR IN ECONOMICS, HARVARD UNIVERSITY

“Paula Stephan is the undisputed authority on the economics of science and her book is a delight…How Economics Shapes Science reveals the economic logic behind the workings of modern science and makes a compelling case for using incentives to rationalize our use of scarce resources.”

—CHARLES CLOTFELTER, DUKE UNIVERSITY

2012 13 line illus., 7 tables 384 pp. Cloth $45.00 / £33.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04971-0

NEW IN PAPERBACK

Biology Is Technology

The Promise, Peril, and New Business of Engineering Life

ROBERT H. CARLSON

★ Association of American Publishers PROSE Award for Excellence, Engineering and Technology Category
★ An Economist Book of the Year

“Robert H. Carlson forecasts the rise of the cell and the subsequent emergence of biological techniques for making fuels, synthetic DNA that builds new organisms, and reverse-engineered viruses for making vaccines. Biologists, Carlson says, are the new engineers, and the future is in remodeling life as we know it.”

—Wired

NEW SCIENCE-MART

Privatizing American Science

PHILIP MIROWSKI

“An important and intensely provocative book that explores fundamental questions about the political economy of science. Science-Mart challenges us to think more critically, more synthetically, and more deeply about the growing commercialization of academic science by exploring the historical and ideological roots of that trend…Mirowski has shown that a political economist can bring significant new insights to the discussion of academic marketphilia.”

—SHELDON KRIMSKY, AMERICAN SCIENTIST

“Historian and economist Mirowski presents a thoroughly researched and sure-to-be-controversial view of the economic and political influences on science policy in post-WW II America.”

—T. TIMMONS, CHOICE

Women in Science

Career Processes and Outcomes

YU XIE AND KIMBERLEE A. SHAUMAN

★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year

“Sociologists Xie and Shauman have prepared this detailed and scholarly study of the career paths of women in science, remarkable for the comprehensive scope of its contents as well as the detail and precision of its findings…It is the most carefully argued and well-documented investigation of both the gender differences in science and the reason women leave science presently available—an important and praiseworthy contribution.”

—M. H. CHAPLIN, CHOICE

NEW

TEACHING AND ITS PREDICAMENTS
DAVID K. COHEN
“In this incisive little book, David Cohen shows why the ambitious teaching that offers students real intellectual challenge is always praised and yet so seldom achieved in America…If American teaching is weak, it’s because every teacher is asked to reinvent teaching every day. Teaching and Its Predicaments offers a startling new understanding of our problems and points the way to a solution.”
—MILBREY MCLAUGHLIN, STANFORD UNIVERSITY

“How do you go about teaching teachers how to teach? David K. Cohen’s Teaching and Its Predicaments takes on that paradox…Its descriptions of the task facing teachers are superb…His book offers a thoughtful account of the challenge.”
—DAVID A. KAPLAN, FORTUNE

NEW IN PAPERBACK

HOPE AND DESPAIR IN THE AMERICAN CITY
Why There Are No Bad Schools in Raleigh
GERALD GRANT
“Something extraordinary has been happening in the [North Carolina’s] schools over the past few decades, and the best guide to this experiment is an important new book by Gerald Grant…He found that the single biggest factor determining whether you do well at school or not isn’t your parents, your teachers, your school buildings, or your genes. It was, overwhelmingly, the other kids sitting in the classroom with you.”
—JOHANN HARI, THE INDEPENDENT

“The book is a must-read for anyone interested in urban planning, race relations, and education reform.”
—PUBLISHERS WEEKLY (starred review)

“Essential reading not only for [the] target audience of education reformers but for anyone concerned with the fate of smaller cities.”
—CATHERINE TUMBER, BOOKFORUM

NEW

DROPPING OUT
Why Students Drop Out of High School and What Can Be Done About It
RUSSELL W. RUMBERGER
“The most complete examination of the dropout issue…Rumberger examines every complex nuance, summarizes every important research paper, and demolishes every Internet myth. His book is a masterpiece.”
—JAY MATHews, WASHINGTON POST

“[A] sobering look at one aspect of many crises facing U.S. schools. Drawing on both education policy and economics, [Rumberger] explores the cost of this crisis to the dropouts and American society in terms of higher unemployment, lower wages, and less of a contribution to the tax base.”
—VANESSA BUSH, BOOKLIST

2011 10 line illus., 10 tables 400 pp. Cloth $35.00 / £25.95 ISBN 978-0-674-06220-7

NEW

KIDS DON’T WANT TO FAIL
Oppositional Culture and the Black-White Achievement Gap
ANGEL L. HARRIS
“Kids Don’t Want to Fail is quite remarkable in its detail, care, and depth as a critical empirical examination of the oppositionality hypothesis: the widely held belief that black student underachievement is attributable to a cultural resistance to schooling. Harris writes so clearly and in a style free of jargon that the quantitative emphasis of his study should not prove a barrier to non-specialist readers.”
—WILLIAM DARITY, JR., DUKE UNIVERSITY

NEW IN PAPERBACK

Someone Has to Fail
The Zero-Sum Game of Public Schooling
DAVID F. LABAREE
“The book is…so rich in contrarian assaults on cherished American assumptions I cannot adequately summarize it…
—JAY MATHEWS, WASHINGTON POST
“Labaree is perceptive and lucid in presenting his view that individual self-interest is a driving force in schooling and school reform.”
—J. L. DEVITIS, CHOICE

As Good As It Gets
What School Reform Brought to Austin
LARRY CUBAN
“A marvelously level-headed and gripping account of a school reform process we know all too well, told with sympathy for everyone involved. Reminding us how uncertain our certainties often are, Cuban prods, provokes, and teaches.”
—DEBORAH MEIER, AUTHOR OF MANY CHILDREN LEFT BEHIND
2010 1 figure, 5 tables 304 pp. Cloth $25.95 / £19.95 ISBN 978-0-674-03554-6

Speaking Up
The Unintended Costs of Free Speech in Public Schools
ANNE PROFFITT DUPRE
“Dupre examines the history of the debate on free speech in schools in the contexts of protests, student publications, religious speech, textbook selection, teacher speech, and civility…Well written, insightful, and occasionally humorous, this book is a great study of free speech in schools.”
—MARK BAY, LIBRARY JOURNAL

NEW IN PAPERBACK

Saving Schools
From Horace Mann to Virtual Learning
PAUL E. PETERSON
“The best books show you a new way of thinking about a familiar issue. Paul Peterson’s Saving Schools offers a new way of thinking about education reform by recounting the histories of reformers…I encourage you to read it. It is full of insights and nice turns of phrase. Peterson is an able writer, graceful rather than powerful. Happily, the book lacks condemnations, sanctimony, or dewy-eyed platitudes, which puts it in rare company.”
—DANIEL WILLINGHAM, WASHINGTON POST BLOG
“Compelling and enlightening…Saving Schools brings numerous aspects of education history out of the clouds and into focus with excellent context and background.”
—LAURA IMPPELLIZZERI, ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Race between Education and Technology
CLAUDIA GOLDIN AND LAWRENCE F. KATZ
★ R.R. HAWKINS AWARD, ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN PUBLISHERS
★ RICHARD A. LESTER PRIZE, OUTSTANDING BOOK IN LABOR ECONOMICS AND INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS
“[Goldin and Katz] tackle the most important U.S. economic trend, and, hence, most critical domestic issue—growing income inequality…[America] now has the most unequal income and wage distributions of any high-income nation…The good news is that if Goldin and Katz are right, the cure for income inequality is one most Americans would intuitively support: improving mass education.”
—CHRYSTIA FREELAND, FINANCIAL TIMES

CLASSROOM CULTURE
“True American is a valuable contribution to this growing field of research. In it, the author skillfully weaves a narrative of U.S. legislative history affecting language education into a solid rebuttal of the numerous myths about bilingualism on which the relevant laws and bills have been premised… Anti-immigrationists brandishing the mythical ‘problem’ of bilingualism continue to fuel vitriolic debates, while reactionary legislation reasserts the prominence of English in education and public life. This, Salomone concludes, is to the detriment of U.S. authorities that have hitherto ignored heritage-language speakers as a potential solution to problems in national security, international trade, and the U.S.’s geopolitical standing.”

—DARREN PAFFEY, TIMES HIGHER EDUCATION

THE LATINO EDUCATION CRISIS

The Consequences of Failed Social Policies

PATRICIA GÁN DARA AND FRANCES CONTRERAS

“American schools are sleepwalking into a perfect storm—rapid demographic changes, an unforgiving global economy, and continually dysfunctional schools… This is the book that everyone who cares about the American future should read and pass on to a friend.”

—CAROLA AND MARCELO SÚAREZ-OROZCO, AUTHORS OF LEARNING A NEW LAND

As part of its 375th celebration, the University has created a new photo book, Explore Harvard: The Yard and Beyond. This collection of photographs, including contemporary images never before published and archival prints, brings to life the myriad intellectual exchanges that make Harvard one of the world’s leading institutions of higher education.

NEW IN PAPERBACK
Unmaking the Public University
The Forty-Year Assault on the Middle Class
CHRISTOPHER NEWFIELD
★ Gold Winner, Book of the Year Award, ForeWord Magazine

“It is not often that even a first-rate scholar and writer manages to delve so deeply into a core problem of his society and time as to come out with an understanding of it that is so complete, so profound—indeed revelatory—as to illuminate the public muddled mind and open the way to recovery. This is what Christopher Newfield has achieved in his book.”
—EMILIA ILIEVA, DAILY NATION

“It is not every day that you get a meticulous analysis of higher education budgetary mechanisms within the same covers as reflections on Robert Pirsig’s Zen and the Art of Motorcycle Maintenance. And the sheer generosity of spirit that underlies Newfield’s rather depressing reflections is deeply attractive.”
—ALAN RYAN, TIMES HIGHER EDUCATION SUPPLEMENT

NEW
The Harvard Sampler
Liberal Education for the Twenty-First Century
EDITED BY JENNIFER M. SHEPHARD, STEPHEN M. KOSSLYN, AND EVELYN M. HAMMONDS

From Harvard University comes essays sampling topics at the forefront of academia in the twenty-first century. Eminent faculty members invite readers to explore subjects as diverse as religious literacy, cyberspace security, epidemiology, questions in evolution, the dark side of the American Revolution, and the biology of the human mind.

NEW
Liberal Arts at the Brink
VICTOR E. FERRALL, JR.

“Victor E. Ferrall, Jr. has written a timely book with passion, details, and insights on the factors contributing to the decline in demand for liberal arts education…and the way forward for arresting the decline.”
—EDWARD K. Y. CHEN, HONG KONG ECONOMIC JOURNAL

“Well researched and well written, Victor Ferrall’s warning of the demise of the liberal arts in American higher education should remind us of the difference between intellectually nurtured education for thinking, and occupational training. If we abandon the former for the latter, what happens to American intellectual leadership in an unpredictable future?”
—DONALD M. STEWART, FORMER PRESIDENT & CEO CHICAGO COMMUNITY TRUST

Also available
THE TRIALS OF ACADEME
The New Era of Campus Litigation
AMY GAJDA
2009 360 pp. Cloth $57.00 / £27.95 ISBN 978-0-674-03567-6
We have had blue ribbon commissions, congressional committees, corporate roundtables, university consortiums, and dozens of non-profit organizations struggle with the central question of American education: How do we prepare students for success in college? The written output of these groups numbers tens of thousands of pages, at least. And yet I just got more useful information from a 198-page book written by an unknown assistant professor of education at Seton Hall University than I ever learned from those stacks of well-intentioned reports... Putting the book in the hands of educators and policy makers at all levels would cost relatively little for the reality it would bring to our so far clumsy attempts to get this right.

—JAY MATHEWWS, WASHINGTON POST BLOG

“This is a worthwhile read that enables the reader to reflect on what and who exactly higher education is for, and also about how best to achieve this for those who choose to take this path.”

—ANDREAS HESS, TIMES HIGHER EDUCATION

2011; 2009; 9 halftones, 13 line illus. 480 pp.
Cloth $37.00 / £27.95 ISBN 978-0-674-03319-1

McGurl’s book is not a history of creative-writing programs. It’s a history of twentieth-century fiction, in which the work of American writers from Thomas Wolfe to Bharati Mukherjee is read as reflections of, and reflections on, the educational system through which so many writers now pass... The Program Era is an impressive and imaginative book.

—LOUIS MENAND, NEW YORKER

“An intelligent, persuasive and thought-provoking book; by shifting the focus away from individual writers towards the institutions that nurtured (or inhibited) them, McGurl breaks new critical ground.”

—PATRICK LANGLEY, TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

2011; 2009; 9 halftones, 13 line illus. 480 pp.
Cloth $37.00 / £27.95 ISBN 978-0-674-03319-1

To open its pages is to thrill at the exploration of the New World and to trace the course of American history through its language... Its editors... have caught the native poetry of America on every page.

—FRED STREBEIGH, SMITHSONIAN

“[T]hese volumes are the most complete lexical records we have of the American experience... DARE... is not a dictionary; it is a national treasure.”

—EDWARD CALLARY, LANGUAGE IN SOCIETY

38 Promotion and Tenure Confidential

DAVID D. PELLMUTTER

“This is a great decoder of a book. David Perlmutter explains what’s meant by those mysterious glances, those strange academic terms, the intricacies of teaching and publishing that can baffle and terrify newbies (and even the most seasoned academicians). He helps you recognize what’s typical, what’s terrific, and what’s toxic, with understanding and sense of humor—and great stories from the trenches.”

—EMILY TOTH, AUTHOR OF MS. MENTOR’S NEW AND EVER MORE IMPECCABLE ADVICE FOR WOMEN AND MEN IN ACADEMIA

College Admissions for the 21st Century

ROBERT J. STERNBERG

“[Sternberg’s] book convincingly indict[s] the SAT and ACT exams. A single test lasting a few hours, he writes, ‘ends up having a weight equal to the product of years of effort and dedication’ in high school.”

How Professors Think

Inside the Curious World of Academic Judgment

MICHÈLE LAMONT

“How Professors Think gives the reader keen insight into the decision-making process behind the awarding of prestigious fellowships. Lamont’s book is an enjoyable read, even a bit of a page turner at times…It is a ‘must-read’ for graduate students and new professors.”

—MARYBETH GASMAN, ACADEME "Balanced, informative, and largely persuasive.”

—ADAM KUPER, TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

Also available

TEACHING WHAT YOU DON’T KNOW

THERESIE HUSTON

CREATING A CLASS

College Admissions and the Education of Elites

MITCHELL L. STEVENS

NEW IN PAPERBACK

AMERICANS ALL

The Cultural Gifts Movement

DIANA SELIG

★ Honorable Mention, Gustavus Myers Center Outstanding Book Award, Gustavus Myers Center for the Study of Bigotry and Human Rights

“This fascinating and intensively researched monograph moves chronologically and thematically to construct the first major historical study of this movement, which aimed to enhance the American creed by confronting and overcoming the worst prejudicial complications of American diversity.”

—CHRISTOPHER McKNIGHT NICHOLS, REVIEWS IN AMERICAN HISTORY

“Whatever the shortcomings of the cultural gifts movement, one leaves this fine study with renewed appreciation of the work of these multicultural pioneers. If Americans today are not fighting ethnic, religious, and even racial battles in their streets, it is, in some small measure, thanks to their efforts.”

—ROBERT C. BANNISTER, TEACHERS COLLEGE RECORD

2011; 2008
17 halftones
384 pp.
Paper $29.95 / £22.95

Patriotic Pluralism

Americanization Education and European Immigrants

JEFFREY E. MIREL

★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year

“Drawing on extensive collections of foreign language newspapers, Mirel offers a refreshing, persuasive reinterpretation of efforts to Americanize European immigrants during the first half of the 20th century…This volume represents a major contribution to the history of U.S. education, and will be of interest to students of immigration, American identity, and the origins of later 20th-century multiculturalism.”

—A. D. MULLEN, CHOICE

2010
2 tables
378 pp.
Cloth $45.00 / £33.95

FROM NAZISM TO COMMUNISM

German Schoolteachers under Two Dictatorships

CHARLES B. LANSING

“A compelling study that makes an original contribution. Lansing presents an intriguing local case, the industrial city of Brandenburg an der Havel, which allows him to probe the interaction of the district administration with the citywide teaching staff, individual schools, and specific teachers. This is a considerable advance in the literature, which has so far mostly been confined to the national level. Through this case study Lansing portrays a more graphic view of how dictatorships work or fail to work on the local level.”

—KONRAD H. JARAUSSCH, UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Harvard Historical Studies 2010
2 tables
320 pp.
Cloth $49.95 / £36.95

SONGS OF OURSELVES

The Uses of Poetry in America

JOAN SHELLEY RUBIN

“This humane, at times exhaustingly detailed literary history dignifies, against the critics’ aesthetic judgments, the comfort, pleasure, and emotional richness readers found in popular poetry. And as a social historian, Rubin…succeeds in showing how this poetry was adopted by educators, churches, immigrant groups, and other organizations to promote various social and cultural goals…She keeps admirable faith with one ordinary reader’s desire not so much to ‘try to figure out what the poem means, as much as what the poem means to us in our lives now.’”

—TOM SLEIGH, NEW YORK TIMES BOOK REVIEW

Belknap 2010; 2007
25 halftones
488 pp.
Paper $20.00 / £14.95
ISBN 978-0-674-03512-6

HISTORY OF EDUCATION AND CULTURE

www.hup.harvard.edu / 1-800-405-1619 (in U.S. only)
New Deep Secrets
Boys’ Friendships and the Crisis of Connection
Niobe Way
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year
“Way’s book should provide encouragement to parents wondering whether they are setting their children, especially their sons, up for abuse by encouraging closeness and defiance of gender stereotypes, particularly those concerning close same-sex friends. Way asserts that the need and ability for connection is as keen in boys as it is in girls, and she backs up her assertion with plenty of data and close reading of the literature. Connection is not something one needs to teach, as the author so eloquently demonstrates; it is something one needs to foster. The text is beautifully written, and the boys’ stories are interspersed with explanations and discussion substantiated by the literature.”
—J. F. HEBERLE, CHOICE

The stories that Way and her research team have persuaded boys to tell are a welcome corrective to the stereotyping of males as essentially unfeeling and/or incapable of communicating their feelings, which has been such a striking (and offensive) feature of recent discourse on gender differences. Way deserves our gratitude.
—DEBORAH CAMERON, TIMES HIGHER EDUCATION

New in paperback

Bilingual Life and Reality
François Grosjean
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year
“The personal dimension of the book contributes to its readability and vitality. Grosjean succeeds in impressing on his readers the need to demystify bilingualism and seek ways in which to encourage linguistic diversity.”
—KERSTIN HOG, TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

NEW IN PAPERBACK

The Evolution of Childhood
Relationships, Emotion, Mind
Melvin Konner
★ An Atlantic Book of the Year
★ A Times Literary Supplement Book of the Year
★ An Amazon.com Editors’ Pick, Best Book of the Year in Science
“This monumental book—breathtakingly inclusive and painstakingly particular—exhaustively explores the biological evolution of human behavior and specifically the behavior of children.”
—BENJAMIN SCHWARZ, THE ATLANTIC

“One of the most remarkable books I have read…Konner re-enchants child’s play, for instance, by explaining its molecular and evolutionary backstory…Along the way, he makes a compelling case for how humans came to acquire complex culture.”
—MICHELE PRIDMORE-BROWN, TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

The Evolutionary Origins of Mutual Understanding
Sarah Blaffer Hrdy
★ A Globe and Mail Best Book of the Year
★ An Irish Times Best Book of the Year
“Hrdy’s conception of early human society is far different from the classic socio-biological view of a primal nuclear family, with dad off hunting big game and mom tending the cave and the kids. Instead, Hrdy paints a picture of a cooperative breeding culture in which parenting duties were spread out across a network of friends and relatives. The effect on our development was profound.”
—JULIA WALLACE, SALON

“Hrdy’s much-awaited new book is another mind-expanding, paradigm-shifting, rigorously scientific yet eminently readable treatise…Sarah Blaffer Hrdy has added another enormous building block to our thinking about our origins with this new book. Our species is lucky to have her.”
—CLAUDIA CASPER, GLOBE AND MAIL
“Lawmakers already look to Scott and Steinberg’s earlier work when they address how the law should respond to juvenile crime, and this book should only enhance the sophistication of those lawmaking efforts.”

—EMILY BUSS,
UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO LAW REVIEW

“Provides a thorough introduction to the myriad problems and possibilities associated with an estimated 300,000 children who participate in military units on almost every continent.”

—P. G. CONWAY, CHOICE

“In the past few years, the body of literature devoted to the use of child soldiers—political and security analyses, sociological explorations, case studies of specific conflicts—has been growing. But largely unheard in these books are the voices of the child soldiers themselves…
[Michael Wesells] now fills that gap in the literature with an admirable work based not just on his own extensive research but on interviews with hundreds of former child soldiers.”

—J. PETER PHAM,
WILSON QUARTERLY

“Reddy describes how babies as young as eight months can fake crying and laughter. She talks of nine-month-olds who, unwilling to stop playing, feign deafness despite their mothers’ calls; and of babies not yet one year old acting innocent
when caught doing something forbidden.
By the time the children in Reddy’s studies were 2 1⁄2 they were indulging in face-saving lies, often ready to blame siblings, to avoid punishment.
However, as familiar as Reddy’s observations may seem to many of us, she is challenging the established line.”

—JO CARLOWE, THE TIMES
Paper $22.95 / £16.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04607-8

“[This] new book stands alongside Kagan’s previous works in terms of being thoughtful and stimulating. Regardless of the extent to which one agrees with Kagan and Snidman’s assertions about the role of temperament, their concept of how it interacts with parenting and context, or their ideas regarding the degree to which it is genetic, the authors are always interesting and thought provoking. Together, Kagan and Snidman have provided a timely work on the relationship between biology and psychology that many readers will find provocative.”

—JOHN SNAREY AND LYNN BRIDGES,
PSYCCRITIQUES
Paper $20.00 / £14.95 ISBN 978-0-674-03233-0

www.hup.harvard.edu / 1-800-405-1619 (in U.S. only)
“Between 1895 and the 1930s, tens of thousands of Americans were diagnosed with dementia praecox—an ‘incurable’ psychosis described by German psychiatrist Emil Kraepelin. The diagnoses then petered out. Psychologist Richard Noll traces the trajectory of this near-forgotten disorder, showing how it became the first specified disease of psychiatry, legitimizing that field’s place in medicine. Noll also shows how the debates today around the successor to dementia praecox, schizophrenia, are leading to a trend in psychiatry towards diagnoses that could fit better with genetics.”

—NATURE

“Noll’s historical analysis of the difficulties faced by clinicians treating mental illness sensitively bridges the distance between cultural construction of disease concepts and the experience of clinical practice.”

—SCOTT VIEIRA, LIBRARY JOURNAL

2011    408 pp. Cloth $45.00 / £33.95   ISBN 978-0-674-04739-6

NEW

The Primate Mind
Built to Connect with Other Minds
EDITED BY FRANS B. M. DE WAAL AND PIER FRANCESCO FERRARI

In The Primate Mind, prominent neuroscientists, psychologists, ethologists, and primatologists from around the world take a bottom-up approach to primate social behavior by investigating how the primate mind connects with other minds and exploring the shared neurological basis for imitation, joint action, and empathy. In the past, there has been a tendency to ask all-or-nothing questions, such as whether primates possess a theory of mind, have self-awareness, or have culture. A bottom-up approach asks what are the underlying cognitive processes of such capacities, some of which may be rather basic and widespread. Using methods ranging from developmental psychology to neurophysiology and neuroimaging, experts explore the evolutionary foundations that allow individuals to read the body language and respond to the emotions of others, interpret their actions and intentions, synchronize and coordinate activities, anticipate the behavior of others, and learn from them. The remarkable social sophistication of primates rests on these basic processes, which are extensively discussed in the pages of this volume.

NEW IN PAPERBACK

Brain Storm
The Flaws in the Science of Sex Differences
REBECCA M. JORDAN-YOUNG

“What Jordan-Young’s analysis uncovered is by turns fascinating and appalling… This book is not only a tonic, it’s also full of scientific insights presented in plain, intelligent prose—an absorbing read, if you’ve ever wondered what was going on in the secret parts of your attic.”

—SARA LIPPINCOTT, LOS ANGELES TIMES

“[A] devastatingly smart and definitive critique… Jordan-Young has done an enormous amount of work to untangle the gender claims. We ought to read her, cite her, thank her. And then, let’s move on.”

—AMANDA SCHAFFER, SLATE

NEW IN PAPERBACK

The Lives of the Brain
Human Evolution and the Organ of Mind
JOHN S. ALLEN

“[Allen] provides the perspective and foundation to start thinking about brain evolution in a more sophisticated, multidimensional fashion.”

—ASIF A. GHANZAFAR, TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

“The Lives of the Brain provides the reader with a comprehensive picture of the state of the knowledge of brain evolution at the beginning of the twenty-first century.”

—BOB LANE, METAPSYCHOLOGY

Mind / Brain / Behavior
“Bernard Chapais offers a powerful and controversial new account of hominid origins… His book offers us one more scenario of our human trajectory… Chapais’ thesis urges us to consider very carefully why humans are so different.”

SEXUAL COERCION IN PRIMATES AND HUMANS
An Evolutionary Perspective on Male Aggression Against Females
EDITED BY MARTIN N. MULLER AND RICHARD W. WRANHAM
“This book makes an important contribution to the fields of primatology, behavioral ecology, evolutionary psychology, and potentially even cultural anthropology… Its strength lies in the many chapters presenting findings from studies on a wide range of primate species, including orangutans, mountain gorillas, baboons, spider monkeys, and chimpanzees. What makes these chapters particularly valuable is that nearly all of them provide a superb discussion of the literature on other species, from dolphins to invertebrates, needed to situate the findings of each chapter within a larger comparative context. This makes the book of great potential value, even to researchers who study species that are not the explicit subject of this book.”

Also available

THE PHYSIOLOGY OF TRUTH
Neuroscience and Human Knowledge
JEAN-PIERRE CHANGEUXTranslated by M. B. DeBievre

CODING AND REDUNDANCY
Man-Made and Animal-Evolved Signals
JACK P. HAILMAN
2008 272 pp. Cloth $44.00 / £32.95 ISBN 978-0-674-02795-4

THE ACCIDENTAL MIND
How Brain Evolution Has Given Us Love, Memory, Dreams, and God
NEW

What Is Mental Illness?

RICHARD J. MCNALLY

“McNally’s book is essentially an extended critique of the DSM, for which he serves as an advisor…[He] begins by asking if we are pathologizing everyday life…One thing that I particularly appreciated about this book is that McNally doesn’t take any sides when describing hypotheses about the origins of mental illness, allowing the reader to draw his or her own conclusions. Those conclusions will probably be mixed and inconsistent, and that’s okay. You get the real sense that he is truly committed to the alleviation of mental suffering…It’s a clear, thorough, and lively accounting of the problems facing mental health and its practitioners today, and will prove a fascinating read to scientist and layperson alike.”

—JASON GOLDMAN, WIRED BLOG

“In eight compact, well-written chapters, [McNally] points out the high prevalence of mental disorder in the United States, the tendency to create diagnoses to fit with new pharmaceuticals, and the blurred line between distress and disorder that allows grief to be labeled depression and high spirits [labeled] mania…Essential for mental-health professionals, this remarkable book will give diligent lay readers a grasp of genetics, evolutionary psychology, and diagnostic controversies.”

—E. JAMES LIEBERMAN, LIBRARY JOURNAL (starred review)

NEW

The Promise of Memory

Childhood Recollection and Its Objects in Literary Modernism

LORNA MARTENS

“We once believed in the power of Proust’s madeleine and Wordsworth’s boyhood memories—before literary culture began to defer to Freud’s questioning of adult memories of childhood. In this first sustained look at childhood memories as depicted in literature, Lorna Martens reveals how much we may have lost by turning our attention the other way. “In this brilliant, wide-ranging study of how writers construct childhood memories, Martens takes us from Wordsworth’s cult of the child to the mysteries of recollection in modernist fictions. With lively erudition and exquisite precision, she shows how inventiveness about times past has its own revelatory energy and poetic truth.”

—MARIA TATAR, HARVARD UNIVERSITY

2011 8 halftones 284 pp. Cloth $35.00 / £25.95 ISBN 978-0-674-06146-0

NEW

Homelessness, Housing, and Mental Illness

With Stephen M. Goldfinger

“Russell Schutt’s book combines sociological theory with survey and ethnographic data, analysis of social policy, and concern with the well-being of persons with serious mental illness. It is a model of humane scholarship that should appeal to sociologists and psychologists as well as students in social work and public policy.”

—ALLAN V. HORWITZ, RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

NEW

A Case for Irony

JONATHAN LEAR

“Before we can claim to live a truly examined life, says Jonathan Lear, we need to pass the test of ironic self-scrutiny at something approaching the level set by Socrates and Kierkegaard. Following the contours of the subtle case for radical irony Lear makes turns out to be an intellectual adventure in its own right.”

—J. M. COETZEE

“Jonathan Lear’s re-reading of the significance of irony for getting the hang of a genuinely human existence is an unheimlich maneuver that brings religion and psychoanalysis into productive conversation with philosophy, and induces characteristically sharp and creative responses from his interlocutors: an exemplary instance of the virtues of the Tanner Lectures format.”

—STEPHEN MULHALL, UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

NEW

The Promise of Memory

Childhood Recollection and Its Objects in Literary Modernism

LORNA MARTENS

“We once believed in the power of Proust’s madeleine and Wordsworth’s boyhood memories—before literary culture began to defer to Freud’s questioning of adult memories of childhood. In this first sustained look at childhood memories as depicted in literature, Lorna Martens reveals how much we may have lost by turning our attention the other way. “In this brilliant, wide-ranging study of how writers construct childhood memories, Martens takes us from Wordsworth’s cult of the child to the mysteries of recollection in modernist fictions. With lively erudition and exquisite precision, she shows how inventiveness about times past has its own revelatory energy and poetic truth.”

—MARIA TATAR, HARVARD UNIVERSITY

2011 8 halftones 284 pp. Cloth $35.00 / £25.95 ISBN 978-0-674-06146-0

NEW

Homelessness, Housing, and Mental Illness

With Stephen M. Goldfinger

“Russell Schutt’s book combines sociological theory with survey and ethnographic data, analysis of social policy, and concern with the well-being of persons with serious mental illness. It is a model of humane scholarship that should appeal to sociologists and psychologists as well as students in social work and public policy.”

—ALLAN V. HORWITZ, RUTGERS UNIVERSITY

NEW

A Case for Irony

JONATHAN LEAR

“Before we can claim to live a truly examined life, says Jonathan Lear, we need to pass the test of ironic self-scrutiny at something approaching the level set by Socrates and Kierkegaard. Following the contours of the subtle case for radical irony Lear makes turns out to be an intellectual adventure in its own right.”

—J. M. COETZEE

“Jonathan Lear’s re-reading of the significance of irony for getting the hang of a genuinely human existence is an unheimlich maneuver that brings religion and psychoanalysis into productive conversation with philosophy, and induces characteristically sharp and creative responses from his interlocutors: an exemplary instance of the virtues of the Tanner Lectures format.”

—STEPHEN MULHALL, UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

NEW IN PAPERBACK

Myths about Suicide

THOMAS JOINER

“Myths about Suicide seeks to debunk the myriad ways that suicide is stigmatized by ignorance, disgust, contempt, and callousness.”

—PETER MONAGHAN, CHRONICLE OF HIGHER EDUCATION

“In this very readable book, Joiner’s wide ranging knowledge of the subject leads to deeply penetrating thoughts on the psychology of suicide. He attacks myths from multiple perspectives, drawing on materials from biblical times to the present, scientific research studies and clinical case studies, animal studies, literature, popular culture, and film. The book also advances Joiner’s own theory of suicide: people who kill themselves feel that they are a burden to their socially significant others and feel alienated from society.”

—W. FEIGELMAN, CHOICE

Also by Thomas Joiner

WHY PEOPLE DIE BY SUICIDE

Healing Spaces

The Science of Place and Well-Being

ESTHER M. STERNBERG, M.D.

★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year

“What Sternberg does so skillfully is to stitch together an explanation as to how so many of the things we intuitively find relaxing, like yoga, or sitting by the sea, or in a bright airy room, affect how quickly we heal. She provides the science to back it up and explains it so engagingly that it’s hard to resist sharing her conviction.”

—LINDAGEDDES, NEW SCIENTIST

NEW IN PAPERBACK

Endocrinology of Social Relationships

EDITED BY

PETER T. ELLISON AND PETER B. GRAY

“As the editors point out, we are all being exposed, like it or not, to hormones in the environment and to ads full of claims about the benefits of administering hormones. We need to understand how such hormones might (or might not) be affecting social relationships. Will spraying on some oxytocin make your colleagues like you? Probably not, but reading Endocrinology of Social Relationships produced warm feelings about the ability of good science to illuminate the human condition.”

—ELIZABETH ADKINS-REGAN, SCIENCE

How Many Friends Does One Person Need?

Dunbar’s Number and Other Evolutionary Quirks

ROBIN DUNBAR

“For the past thirty years, [Dunbar] has conducted research designed to uncover the workings of our ancestral hardware: to decode the scripts that drive much of our behavior and make us what we are as a species…Dunbar shows that, if we go far enough back in our family trees, we are all the product of a tangled skein of heroes and villains, of conquering populations and conquered ones, of dominant and minority races, of in-groups and out-groups…Knowledge such as this may well be the only way out of the ancestral cave.”

—MICHELE PRIDMORE-BROWN, LOS ANGELES REVIEW OF BOOKS

LEARNING A NEW LAND
Immigrant Students in American Society
CAROLA SUÁREZ-OROZCO, MARCELO M. SUÁREZ-OROZCO, AND IRINA TODOROVA
★ Virginia and Warren Stone Prize

One child in five in America is the child of immigrants, and their numbers increase each year. Very few will return to the country they barely remember. Who are they, and what America do they know?

“[Learning a New Land] examines how the children of immigrants are doing in American schools. It’s a discouraging picture, and should be a wake-up call to anyone who cares about education.”

— JOSH GREEN, SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE

WHAT CHILDREN NEED
JANE WALDFOGEL

“Jane Waldfogel guides us through more closely defined approaches to questions about the effects of parental care and attention, and takes a pragmatic view of the way children adapt to variations in their environment.”

— TERRI APTER, TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

“[Waldfogel’s] analysis is written from an American perspective, and most of her statistics refer to the United States, but the issues and her discussion of them transcend national boundaries.”

— GERALD HAIGH, TIMES EDUCATIONAL SUPPLEMENT

ADDITION
A Disorder of Choice
GENE M. HEYMAN

“We have a justice system that treats drug use as a malevolent act of will (to be punished) and a medical profession that treats it as an unfortunate disease (to be cured). Who is right?… [Heyman] argues that it is not his fellow medical professionals… This is a rich book that reverberates far beyond the field of addiction studies. Attentive readers will find in it lessons about debt-financed consumerism, environmental spoliation and the whole, vast range of self-destructive behavior that we engage in out of self-interest.”

— CHRISTOPHER CALDWELL, FINANCIAL TIMES

Also of interest
NEW
THE LOST CHILDREN
Reconstructing Europe’s Families after World War II
TARA ZAHRA

World War II tore apart an unprecedented number of families. This is the heartbreaking story of the humanitarian organizations, governments, and refugees that tried to rehabilitate Europe’s lost children from the trauma of war, and in the process shaped Cold War ideology, ideals of democracy and human rights, and modern visions of the family.

“Zahra’s research examines the difficulties inherent in attempting to mend the social dislocation caused by war…[Her] work is insightful in considering what treatment of lost children can tell us about broader developments in the post-war period, both in terms of how nations interacted with each other and how psychologists understood the impact of war on children.”

— HESTER VAIZEY, TIMES HIGHER EDUCATION

SOCIAL PSYCHOLOGY 47
NEW

CAPITALIZING
ON CRISIS

The Political Origins of the Rise of Finance
GRET A R. KRIPPNER
★ President’s Book Award, Social Science History Association

“Amidst the tsunami of books coming out in the wake of the recent financial crisis, Krippner’s work stands out for its unusual approach. Rather than addressing the venality and incompetence of those with responsibility for regulating the economy, Krippner tells the history of the growth of financialization from the perspective of the regulators... In her account, the regulators were searching for ad hoc responses to what were deeper, perhaps even intractable problems. The high point of the book is her magnificent analysis of the erosion of Regulation Q, in which regulators cracked open the door to financial deregulation, unleashing the massive deregulation that came later.”

—M. PERELMAN, CHOICE
Cloth $39.95 / £29.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05084-6

NEW IN PAPERBACK

BORDERLINE AMERICANS

Racial Division and Labor War in the Arizona Borderlands
KATHERINE BENTON-COHEN
★ A Pima County Public Library Best Southwest Book of the Year
★ Finalist, Spur Award, Best Western Nonfiction—Contemporary Category, Western Writers of America
★ Finalist, William P. Clements Prize, William P. Clements Center for Southwest Studies at Southern Methodist University

“Benton-Cohen uses the backdrop of the Wild West, with its bustling commerce and growing population, to wage a discussion on racial division and the power of ‘white privilege’—even where the black-white dichotomy didn’t necessarily exist—in this richly detailed anthropological look into the creation of racial boundaries and their application in present-day immigration reform debates.”

—PUBLISHERS WEEKLY

“A splendid study of the contested meaning of ‘American’ from the 1880s through the New Deal, this is an episodic case study of Cochise County, Arizona, best known as the locus for the gunfight at the O.K. Corral.”

—E. R. CROW THER, CHOICE
2011; 2009 20 halftones, 4 maps 384 pp.

NEW

THE ETHICAL PROJECT

PHILIP KITCHER

“This magnificent book promises to be a heavy-weight contribution to the field of moral philosophy. Kitcher is one of the most elegant writers in the business; his thinking is subtle and profound.”

—RICHARD JOYCE, VICTORIA UNIVERSITY OF WELLINGTON

“Few philosophers bridge the natural sciences and moral philosophy as easily and elegantly as Kitcher, navigating around both the naturalistic fallacy and the ‘norm’ of normative ethics. His account of how and why humans evolved into a moral species is both refreshing and respectful toward other approaches.”

—FRANS DE WAAL, AUTHOR OF THE AGE OF EMPATHY
Cloth $49.95 / £36.95 ISBN 978-0-674-06144-6

SERVING COUNTRY AND COMMUNITY

Who Benefits from National Service?
F R USKIN AND JOANN JASTRZAB

“Who benefits from AmeriCorps, Vista, and National Civilian Community Corps? Frumkin and Jastrzab make important recommendations on how to improve the programs and resolve some of the political and administrative issues which have plagued those initiatives in the past two decades.”

—JAMES YOUNISS, CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY OF AMERICA
2010 1 chart, 17 graphs, 12 tables 320 pp.
Cloth $45.00 / £33.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04678-8
NEW CROSSING BORDERS
Migration and Citizenship in the Twentieth-Century United States
DOROTHEE SCHNEIDER
“Crossing Borders deserves a place on the growing shelf of immigration histories. Filled with fresh material and compelling stories, it is a useful supplement to more traditional accounts of American immigration politics and policymaking.”
—TAMAR JACOBY, NEW REPUBLIC ONLINE

“Crossing Borders is an important contribution to emerging literature that brings the state back into migration studies while still paying tribute to the agency of migrants.”
—DONNA R. GABACCIA, IMMIGRATION HISTORY RESEARCH CENTER, UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA
Cloth $45.00 / £33.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04756-3

DEPORTATION NATION
Outsiders in American History
DANIEL KANSTROOM
“Kanstroom is a committed advocate and a provocatively tendentious historian, not a detached policy analyst. This accounts for both the strengths and the limitations of his admirably accessible, well-written, and usefully endnoted book. It will be valuable to anyone who wants to understand the precursors of today’s broad deportation power, as well as its evolution into an instrument of wide-ranging governmental power over the conduct, status, and insecurities of immigrants hoping to sink roots in the U.S.”
—PETER H. SCHÜCK, JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL MIGRATION AND INTEGRATION
Paper $22.95 / £16.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04622-1

NEW FRAMING MUSLIMS
Stereotyping and Representation after 9/11
PETER MOREY AND AMINA YAQIN
“Groundbreaking… Drawing on their diverse backgrounds in English and Urdu literary and cultural studies, Morey and Yaqin examine…[how] veils, beards, men at prayer, and minarets stand in for Muslims in all their heterogeneity and complexity…[An] illuminating work.”
—CLAIREE CHAMBERS, TIMES HIGHER EDUCATION

“Framing Muslims is an enlightening book. It is sure to make us more critical of the power and influence of media in shaping our views on Muslims and Islam. Peter Morey and Amina Yaqin deserve applause for their worthy effort.”
—JOSEPH RICHARD PREVILLE, SAUDI GAZETTE
Cloth $27.95 / £20.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04852-2

THE AGE OF INDEPENDENCE
Interracial Unions, Same-Sex Unions, and the Changing American Family
MICHAEL J. ROSENFIELD
“The most intellectually provocative study of family change in the United States to be published in the past decade.”
—FRANK F. FURSTENBERG, JR., POPULATION AND DEVELOPMENT REVIEW

“Destined to rank as a classic in the fields of family demography and sociology of the family.”
—KATHLEEN E. HULL, INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF SOCIOLOGY OF THE FAMILY
Paper $21.00 / £15.95 ISBN 978-0-674-03490-7

SOCIOL OGY 49
This book presents a uniquely detailed picture of how being a parent fits with men’s broader social and work lives, how fatherhood evolved, and how it differs across cultures and through time.

“Gray and Anderson do for fatherhood what [Sarah] Hrdy has done for motherhood.”

—DREW H. BAILEY, BENJAMIN WINEGARD, AND DAVID C. GEARY, EVOLUTIONARY PSYCHOLOGY

“This text represents a new ‘go-to’ source for those wishing to learn about evolutionary, anthropological approaches to human and hominin fatherhood.”

—LEE T. GETTLER, AMERICAN JOURNAL OF HUMAN BIOLOGY

Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04869-0

NEW IN PAPERBACK

SEXUAL RECKONINGS

Southern Girls in a Troubling Age

SUSAN K. CAHN

“As public policy wars over morality rage unabated, the bodies of teenage girls and young women remain the battleground, making this book an urgent read.”

—FRANCE WINDDANCE TWINE, MS.

“From poor white girls targeted for ‘reform’ to wartime pickup girls to the rock ‘n’ roller, Cahn gives readers an insightful understanding of history that will leave you intrigued, indignant, entertained and even confer value on anyone who has suffered injustices, nourishing the possibility for change.”

—SOFIA MARIN, FEMINIST REVIEW

Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-02452-6

NEW IN PAPERBACK

RESHAPING THE WORK–FAMILY DEBATE

Why Men and Class Matter

JOAN C. WILLIAMS

“Williams is eloquent on the stresses created for both men and women by a workplace culture that relies on the old image of the hard-working, always available husband and the stay-at-home wife. She unmask[s] the fact that women do not drop out of the workplace, as the media often claim, but rather are pushed.”

—JEAN HARDISTY, WOMEN’S REVIEW OF BOOKS

“This book will join Williams’s first, Unbending Gender, as a key piece in the canon of work-family scholarship. It is essential reading for all work-family scholars across a wide range of disciplines … It should be added to the pantheon of other contemporary gender scholarship that has moved the work-family debate forward… It is my hope that it will also prove to be essential reading for politicians seeking progressive solutions.”

—SARAH DAMASKE, SEX ROLES

Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05567-4
“Isbell weaves together facts from anthropology, neuroscience, palaeontology, and psychology to explain that our emotional connection to snakes has a long evolutionary history.”
—BARBARA J. KING, TIMES LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

“And so, Isbell avers, Genesis has it right: the snake made us human…Isbell ranges widely, unpacks her evidence meticulously, synthesizes disparate and difficult material economically, addresses counterarguments scrupulously, and writes cleanly, often gracefully, and occasionally even playfully.”
—THE ATLANTIC

In tales that entertain as much as they illuminate, these writers show how the moral and intellectual challenges of living cross-culturally revealed to them the limits of their perception and understanding. Their insights were gained only after discomforts resulting mainly from the authors’ own blunders in the field—from Brazil to Botswana, Egypt to Indonesia, Mongolia to Pakistan, mistakes were made. At a time when misunderstanding of cultural difference is an undeniable source of conflict, we need stories like these more than ever before.

New Seeing Patients
Unconscious Bias in Health Care
AUGUSTUS A. WHITE III, M.D.
With David Chanoff
★ A Choice Outstanding Academic Title of the Year
“White’s story—part autobiography, part call to action—is a compelling and often uncomfortable read about a hidden world where even the most compassionate and egalitarian caregivers often fail a basic command of the Hippocratic Oath: to do no harm.”
—SEAN SILVERTHORNE, HARVARD BUSINESS SCHOOL ALUMNI BULLETIN

White recounts his ground-breaking life in an engaging, matter-of-fact manner…Challenges exist on both sides of the stethoscope, White argues, noting that the uncertainty felt by many African-American patients over how they will be perceived also impacts the medical encounter; the burden for alleviating racial and other disparities (such as those based in age, gender, and sexual orientation) falls on the medical and educational communities. Accessible, thought-provoking, and valuable.”
—PUBLISHERS WEEKLY
Cloth $27.95 / £20.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04905-5

New in Paperback
Forced to Care
Coercion and Caregiving in America
EVELYN NAKANO GLENN
★ Finalist, C. Wright Mills Award, Society for the Study of Social Problems
“[Glenn’s] evidence is compelling and deals with a wide variety of examples that proves how coercion and caregiving have gone hand in hand. She uses evidence from the coercion of African-American women in general, slavery, Native-American women, as well as White women. She provides the reader with information on how class, race, and gender have formed the caregiving policies of twenty-first century America and how policies and laws have favored women as carers.”
—ELIN WEISS, METAPSYCHOLOGY

Cloth $29.95 / £22.95 ISBN 978-0-674-06415-7

Pensions in the Health and Retirement Study
ALAN L. GUSTMAN, THOMAS L. STEINMEIER, AND NAHID TABATABAI
★ Noteworthy Book in Industrial Relations and Labor Economics, Princeton University Industrial Relations Section
“Pensions in the Health and Retirement Study will be of tremendous value to researchers. It is a thorough and competent statistical analysis and will be an indispensable reference.”
—BRIGITTE MADRIAN, KENNEDY SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT, HARVARD UNIVERSITY
2010 11 line illus., 160 tables 400 pp.
Cloth $59.95 / £44.95 ISBN 978-0-674-04866-9
NEW IN PAPERBACK
Method and Meaning in Polls and Surveys
HOWARD SCHUMAN
“Method and Meaning in Polls and Surveys is an exemplar of what social science research should be. It adds significant insight into survey research methods and how survey research can advance the scientific understanding of society.”
—TOM W. SMITH, FIELD METHODS
“A notable and vital contribution to the field of public opinion and survey research.”
—GEORGE BISHOP, UNIVERSITY OF CINCINNATI

NEW IN PAPERBACK
Voice and Vision
A Guide to Writing History and Other Serious Nonfiction
STEPHEN J. PYNE
“The book is everything the author says a work of nonfiction ought to be: well written, clearly thought out, and full of specific examples (of what to do and what not to do). An essential tool for anyone who is attempting to write nonfiction, or even just thinking about it.”
—DAVID PITT, BOOKLIST

IN PRAISE OF COPYING
MARKUS BOON
“The aim of this work is to demonstrate the historical, political, and philosophical advantages of rethinking the how and why of copying, thereby uncovering the roots of its power to help people understand themselves and the world they live in.”
—J. M. BOYLE, CHOICE

SALSA DANCING INTO THE SOCIAL SCIENCES
Research in an Age of Info-glut
KRISTIN LUKER
“Kristin Luker has managed to produce a charming and effective manual on how to get through the research process with most of one’s enthusiasm still intact. This is a guidebook for the methodologically bewildered, with an attractive blend of homespun wisdom, illustrated from her own research career, as well as glimpses of herself, her family, and her enthusiasms—of which the salsa dancing of the title seems to be one—threaded through a lucid and accessible discussion of the elements of research practice.”
—LESLIE GOFTON, TIMES HIGHER EDUCATION SUPPLEMENT

AM I MAKING MYSELF CLEAR?
A Scientist’s Guide to Talking to the Public
CORNELIA DEAN
“One can only hope that researchers—and the academic administrators who decide what the scientists of tomorrow need to know—read [this] concise, sharply written volume and take [its] message to heart. The process of reconnecting science and society cannot start soon enough.”
—TOM JACOBS, MILLER-MCCUNE
“Any researcher looking to communicate better will find Cornelia Dean’s book invaluable.”
—KATHY SYKES, TIMES HIGHER EDUCATION SUPPLEMENT
The John Harvard Library, founded in 1959, publishes essential American writings, including novels, poetry, memoirs, criticism, and works of social and political history, representing all periods, from the beginning of settlement in America to the twenty-first century. The purpose of the John Harvard Library is to make these works available to scholars and general readers in affordable, authoritative editions. Visit www.hup.harvard.edu for a full list of titles in this series.
ORDER NOW—SIMPLY COMPLETE AND MAIL

The reply coupon below by January 1, 2013.

If paying by credit card, you may call us toll-free: 1-800-405-1619
You may also order by toll-free FAX: 1-800-406-9145 or order online: www.hup.harvard.edu

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Qty</th>
<th>Author/Title</th>
<th>ISBN 978-0-674-06178-1</th>
<th>Price</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Balkin, Living Originalism</td>
<td>06178-1</td>
<td>$35.00</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Subtotal $__________

(free before January 1, 2013) Postage $__________

(see list below) Sales tax $__________

(you won’t be charged Canada Post’s handling fee) 5% GST, Canadian orders only $__________

Total due $__________

Prices subject to change. Offer good in the U.S. and Canada only. All others pay list price plus separate postage.

The Harvard Guarantee: You must be completely satisfied with the books you order or you may return them within 30 days of receipt for a full refund or credit to your charge card.

Sales Tax: When required, residents must include sales tax: CA, CT, DC, FL, GA, IL, IN, KY, MD, MI, MN, NJ, NM, NY, OH, PA, RI, TX, VA, WI

Remove address: To remove your address from our mailing list or for a change of address, you must mail this entire page with any corrections marked to Direct Mail, Harvard University Press, 79 Garden Street, Cambridge, MA 02138.

Attention Professors: Visit our Educators Center on the Harvard University Press website to examine a select list of our paperbacks online and for other information to help guide you through your coursebook selection process.

www.hup.harvard.edu/resources/educators
NEW—ALSO OF INTEREST

Prison Blossoms
Anarchist Voices from the American Past
ALEXANDER BERKMAN, HENRY BAUER, AND CARL NOLD
Edited by Miriam Brody and Bonnie Buetnner
Published here for the first time is a crucial document in the history of American radicalism—the “Prison Blossoms,” a series of essays, narratives, poems, and fables composed by three activist anarchists imprisoned for the 1892 assault on anti-union steel tycoon Henry Clay Frick.

“Magnificently edited and masterfully translated, Prison Blossoms should command the attention of anyone interested in the delivery, denial, or deferral of justice in the United States.”
—GLENN C. ALTSCHULER, CORNELL UNIVERSITY

Cloth $26.95 / £19.95 ISBN 978-0-674-05056-3